OF THE

GENERAL SOCIETY SONS OF THE REVOLUTION

---

The General Society Sons of the Revolution may be said to have originated in the stirring patriotic celebrations held in 1873 in commemoration of the centennial of the Boston Tea Party.

There was at this time no active patriotic society in this country. The Society of the Cincinnati, formed in 1783 by the officers of the Continental Army, had ceased to exist in most of the original states, and where it still retained its organization it was no longer an active force.

The time seemed to be propitious for infusing new life into the Society of the Cincinnati, and with this in mind, Mr. John Austin Stevens presented to the President of the Society, the Hon. Hamilton Fish, the desirability of amending the rules of the Society so as to enlarge its membership and infuse new vitality into the organization.

These suggestions met with no favor, and on December 18, 1875, Mr. Stevens called together some of his associates in the rooms of the New York Historical Society to discuss the feasibility of founding a new patriotic society. The idea was favorably received, and the name "Sons of the Revolution" agreed upon. A month later, on January 15, 1876, a second meeting was held at which Mr. Stevens presented a constitution for the society. This was unanimously approved and signed by all present, and Mr. Stevens was authorized to make public announcement of the organization of the new society, and extend an invitation to membership. As there were but few acceptances of this invitation, the project was suspended until circumstances seemed more favorable.

In 1883 the centennial anniversaries of the Evacuation of New York and of Washington's last meeting with his officers, seemed to indicate that the time had arrived for launching the new society. Accordingly at the dinner held in celebration of these events at Fraunces Tavern, New York, on December 4, 1883, the constitution of the Society Sons of the Revolution was presented by Mr. Stevens and his associates. This was enthusiastically received and was immediately signed by all present who were eligible to membership to the number of 40, and the New York Society was then and there organized by the election of John Austin Stevens, President; John Cochrane, Vice-President; Austin Huntington, Secretary; and George H. Potts, Treasurer.

On April 29, 1884, a certificate of incorporation was executed by the following gentlemen :

John Austin Stevens,	Thomas H. Edsall,
John Cochrane,	Joseph W. Drèxell,
Austin Huntington,	James Mortimer Montgomery,
George H. Potts,	James Duane Livingston,
Frederick H. Tallmadge,	Alexander R. Thompson, Jr.
George W. W. Houghton,	John Bleecker Miller,
Asa Bird Gardiner,

and on May 2, 1884, the certificate was signed by Judge George C. Barrett.

In 1887, Mr. John Wolf Jordan and others, of Philadelphia, became desirous of organizing a Society of the Sons of the Revolution for Pennsylvania, but were unwilling that their society should rank as auxiliary to the New York Society. Accordingly, on April 3, 1888, an independent society Sons of the Revolution for the State of Pennsylvania was organized at Philadelphia, and on September 29, 1890, this Society was incorporated under the laws of the State.

In March, 1889, a petition was received by the New York Society from a number of gentlemen residing in Washington, D. C., asking that an auxiliary branch of the Society be established for the District of Columbia. This request was favorably acted upon, and on December 18, 1889, the new Society was duly incorporated.

In 1890 the rapidly increasing membership of the three Societies and the general desire for closer relations, resulted in the appointment of Committees from New York and Pennsylvania to consider the feasibility of uniting. These Committees added a representative from the Washington Society, and held a conference at which the fundamental principles for a General Society were evolved, and Judge Clifford Stanley Sims, a Justice of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals, was asked to draw up a constitution. This constitution was modeled closely on the Institution of the Cincinnati.

As a result of this conference, a joint convention of the three Societies was held at Washington, D. C., on April 19, 1890, at which the General Society Sons of the Revolution was duly organized, and the following officers elected :

Ex-Governor John Lee Carroll, of Maryland, General President ;
Major William Wayne, of Pennsylvania, General Vice-President ;
James Mortimer Montgomery, of New York, General Secretary ;
Timothy Matlack Cheesman, of New York, Assistant General Sec'y ;
Richard McCall Cadwalader, of Pennsylvania, General Treasurer ;
Arthur Henry Dutton, of District of Columbia, Assistant General
Treasurer ;
Daniel Cony Weston, D. D., of New York, General Chaplain.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

OHIO SOCIETY SONS OF THE REVOLUTION

---

The negotiations which led to the establishment of the Ohio Society were conducted by Mr. L. J. Allen, who was an officer on the U. S. Steamship "Chicago" and a member of both the New York and Pennsylvania Societies, with Dr. G. S. Franklin, of Chillicothe, Ohio, who was a member of the District of Columbia Society, and Mr. A. H. Pugh, of Cincinnati, who was a member of the Pennsylvania Society.

After a correspondence extending from March 20th to May 2, 1893, the following nine gentlemen met at Columbus on May 2, 1893, and were incorporated under the laws of the State as the "Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution".

Achilles Henry Pugh, of Cincinnati;
Gustavus Scott Franklin, of Chillicothe;
Wilbur Taylor Eldridge, of Columbus;
John Nelson Eldridge, of Columbus;
Edward Renick Woodrow, of Columbus;
Clem Henry Tingley, of Columbus;
Carlton Taylor Nelson, of Columbus;
Howard Burdett Nelson, of Columbus;
Robert Scott Franklin, of Chillicothe.

On May 9th, 1893, the Society was organized at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, with a membership of twenty-seven, and the following Board of Officers was elected:

President, Jephtha Garrard;
Vice-President, George Eltweed Pomeroy;
Secretary, Achilles Henry Pugh;
Treasurer, Ralph Peters;
Registrar, John Marshall Newton;
Historian, Gustavus Scott Franklin;
Board of Managers: Edward Lowell Anderson, Joseph Edward Boylan, William Carson, John Nelson Eldridge, Robert Nelson McConnell, Christopher Champlin Waite.

The first patriotic meeting of the Society was held on Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1894, at the Queen City Club, Cincinnati. Since then the Society has regularly commemorated with appropriate patriotic and religious meetings the principal events connected with the Revolution, including Washington's Birthday, the Battle of Lexington, and the Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

The Society has also been active in fostering various enterprises of a patriotic nature, its principal activities being as follows:

On December 31, 1895, the Society gave a Continental Ball, in Colonial costume, at the Armory, Cincinnati, for the purpose of raising funds to purchase a statue of the Minute Man of the Revolution. The proceeds being inadequate, however, they were set aside as a nucleus for this fund.

In 1896 the Society established a state wide essay contest in American Revolutionary History, the prizes during the first four years being gold, silver and bronze medals, and thereafter a substantial sum of money.

In 1906 this contest was discontinued, and in its place an annual donation was sent to Berea College, Kentucky, to aid in the education of descendants of Revolutionary soldiers.

In 1901 the Society joined with other patriotic organizations in erecting a monument on the site of Fort Washington, at Third and Ludlow streets, Cincinnati.

In 1902 a committee was appointed which was actively engaged for several years in the work of identifying the Revolutionary soldiers of Hamilton County, in verifying their military records and locating their places of burial. A permanent memorial of this work has been established by the Society in the form of a roll of Revolutionary soldiers and sailors inscribed on a large bronze tablet erected in the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Building, on Elm street, Cincinnati.

The Society has also supported an association of boys and young men of foreign birth or parentage, who were taught to reverence the flag, and instructed in the duties and privileges of American citizenship.

Since the organization of the Society in 1893, there has been enrolled 511 members. Of this number 113 have died, 32 have been transferred to other State Societies, and 159 memberships have been terminated through other causes.

Year Books of the Society were published in 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1901 and 1909.

The membership of the Society has been as follows:

OF THE

---

SECTION I.—NAME OF THE SOCIETY.

This Society shall be known by the name, style and title of The Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution.

SECTION II.—QUALIFICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP.

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good character, and a lineal descendant of one who, as a military, naval, or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, in actual service, under the authority of any of the thirteen Colonies or States or of the Continental Congress, and remaining always loyal to such authority, or a lineal descendant of one who signed the Declaration of Independence, or of one who, as a member of the Continental Congress, or of the Congress of any of the Colonies or States, or as an official appointed by or under the authority of any such legislative bodies, actually assisted in the establishment of American Independence by services rendered during the War of the Revolution, becoming thereby liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain, but remaining always loyal to the authority of the Colonies or States, shall be eligible to membership in the Society.

Provided, That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor in the "minute men" or "militia," it must be satisfactorily shown that such ancestor was actually called into the service of the State or United States, and performed garrison or field duties; and

Provided further, That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as an "official," such service must have been performed in the civil service of the United States, or of one of the thirteen original States, and must have been sufficiently important in character to have rendered the official specially liable to arrest and imprisonment, the same as a combatant, if captured by the enemy, as well as liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain.

Service in the ordinary duties of a civil office, the performance of which did not particularly and effectively aid the American Cause, shall not constitute eligibility.

In the construction of this article, the Volunteer Aides-de-Camp of General Officers in the Continental Service, who were duly announced as such and who actually served in the field during a campaign, shall be comprehended as having performed qualifying service.

The civil officials and military forces of the State of Vermont, during the War of the Revolution, shall also be comprehended in the same manner as if they had belonged to one of the thirteen original States.

No service of an ancestor shall be deemed as qualifying service for membership in "The Sons of the Revolution" where such ancestor, after assisting in the cause of American Independence, shall have subsequently either adhered to the enemy, or failed to maintain an honorable record throughout the War of the Revolution.

No person shall be admitted unless he be eligible under one of the provisions of this article, nor unless he be of good moral character and be judged worthy of becoming a member.

SECTION III.—PROCEDURE FOR MEMBERSHIP.

Members shall be elected as follows: Candidates shall send their applications properly attested and authenticated and proposed, and seconded by two members of the Society, to the Secretary, who will present same to the Board of Managers, and upon a favorable report from said Board, and upon payment of the initiation fee and annual dues, may thereupon become members of the Society.

SECTION IV.—INITIATION FEE, DUES, ETC.

(As amended November 26, 1918.)

The initiation fee shall be five (5) dollars, payable within thirty days after the date of election; the annual dues for members residing in Hamilton County, Ohio, and in Kenton and Campbell Counties, Kentucky, shall be five (5) dollars; for members residing elsewhere, the annual dues shall be three (3) dollars. The payment at one time of fifty (50) dollars shall constitute a life membership. The payment at one time of one hundred (100) dollars shall constitute a perpetual or endowed membership, and upon death of the member so paying, the membership shall be held by his eldest son, or such other lineal descendant from the ancestor whom he claims as he may nominate; in failure of such nomination having been made, the Society may decide which of one such lineal descendants shall hold the membership; Provided, always, that the Society reserves to itself the privilege of rejecting any nomination that may not be acceptable to it. All application for life or endowed memberships shall be exempt from the payment of the initiation fee, and annual dues from the date of their admission; after admission, any member availing himself of a life or endowed membership shall be exempt from future annual dues only.

Members who are officers or enlisted men in active service in the military or naval forces of the United States while the nation is engaged in war shall be released from the payment of annual dues in each year in which they so serve.

No initiation fee shall be charged any person in active service in the military or naval forces of the United States, who shall make application for membership while the nation is engaged in war.

SECTION V.—TRUST FUNDS.

All life, and endowed membership fees, as well as donations and legacies, unless otherwise specified by the donor, which shall hereafter be paid to the Society, shall remain forever to the use of the Society, the interest only to be used.

SECTION VI.—ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the Society shall be held in the city of Cincinnati, on the twenty-second day of February, at which a general election of officers, managers and delegates, by ballot, shall take place, except when such date shall fall on Sunday, in which event the meeting shall be held on the following day. In such election a majority of the ballots given for any officer shall constitute a choice; but if, on the first ballot, no person shall receive such majority, then a further balloting shall take place, when a plurality of votes given for any officer shall determine the choice.

SECTION VII.—ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The following shall be the order of business at the annual meetings of the Society:

1. Prayer by the chaplain.
2. Reading of the minutes of the last meeting.
3. Reports of officers and committees.
4. Unfinished business.
5. New business.
6. Election of officers—an appointment by the President of a judge and two tellers to count the votes and declare the result.

SECTION VIII.—NUMBER REQUIRED FOR A QUORUM.

At all meetings of the Society ten (10) members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SECTION IX.—AYES AND NAYES ON DEMAND.

Ayes and naves shall be called at any meeting of the Society upon the demand of five members.

SECTION X.—OFFICERS.

(As amended February 22, 1905.)

The officers of the Society shall consist of a President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Third Vice-President, Fourth Vice-President, Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, Registrar, Historian, Chaplain, and Eight Managers, who shall be elected as herein provided for.

SECTION XI.—PRESIDING OFFICER.

The President, or in his absence, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the order named, or in their absence a chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all meetings of the Society, and shall have a casting vote. He shall preserve order, and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Society.

SECTION XII.—DUTIES OF THE SECRETARIES.

(As amended February 22, 1905.)

A. The Secretary shall have charge of the seal, certificate of incorporation and By-Laws, and records of the Society other than those deposited with the Registrar. He shall notify all members of their election, and of such other matters as may be directed by the Society. He, together with the presiding officer, shall certify all acts of the Society. He shall, under the direction of the President, or Vice-President, give due notice of the time and place of all meetings of the Society, and attend the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society; and shall give notice to the several officers of all votes, orders, resolutions, and proceedings of the Society affecting them, or appertaining to their respective duties. He shall be Secretary of the Board of Managers, and shall keep the records of their meetings in the regular minute book of the Society.

B. The Corresponding Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society, and in the absence of the Secretary shall act in his stead.

SECTION XIII.—DUTIES OF THE TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society; and so often as those funds shall amount to one hundred (100) dollars, they shall be deposited in some bank or trust company in the city of Cincinnati, to the credit of "The Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution," and shall be drawn thence on the check of the Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums as may be ordered by the Society or by the Board of Managers. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and, at each annual meeting, render the same to the Society, when a committee shall be appointed to audit his accounts. He shall give such security as shall be required by the Board of Managers.

SECTION XIV.—DUTIES OF THE REGISTRAR.

(As amended October 19, 1911.)

A. The Registrar shall keep a roll of members, and in his hands shall be lodged all the proofs of membership qualification, and all the historical and other papers of which the Society may become possessed; and he, under the direction of the Board of Managers, shall make copies of such similar documents as the owners thereof are or may not be willing to leave permanently in the keeping of the Society.

B. The Registrar shall send to the General Registrar of the Sons of the Revolution, a duplicate copy of every application for membership.

SECTION XV.—DUTIES OF THE HISTORIAN.

The Historian shall keep a detailed record, to be deposited with the Registrar, of all the historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society; and he shall edit and prepare for publication such historical addresses, essays, papers, and other documents of an historical character, other than a register of members, as the Secretary may be required to publish; and at every annual meeting, if there shall be a necrological list for the year then closing, he shall submit the same with carefully prepared biographies of the deceased members.

SECTION XVI.—DUTIES OF THE CHAPLAIN.

The Chaplain shall be a regularly ordained minister of a Christian denomination, and it shall be his duty to open all meetings of the Society with customary chaplaincy services, and perform such other duties as ordinarily appertain to such office.

SECTION XVII.—DUTIES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

(As amended February 22, 1905.)

The Board of Managers shall consist of nineteen, namely the President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Third Vice-President, Fourth Vice-President, Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, Registrar, Historian and Chaplain, ex-officio, and eight other members; at least, five of whom shall not be residents of the city of Cincinnati, and all of whom shall be elected at the annual meeting. In case of a vacancy in any of these offices the Board may fill the same until the next annual election.

They shall judge of the qualifications of the candidates for admission into the Society, and shall have power to elect the same to membership. They shall have charge of all special meetings of the Society, and shall, through the Secretary, call special meetings at any time, upon the written request of five members of the Society, and at such other times as they see fit. They shall recommend plans for promoting the objects of the Society, shall digest and prepare business, and shall authorize the disbursement and expenditure of unappropriated money in the treasury for the payment of the current expenses of the Society. They shall generally superintend the interests of the Society, and execute all such duties as may be committed to them by the Society. At each annual meeting of the Society they shall make a general report.

At all meetings of the Board of Managers five members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SECTION XVIII.—COMMITTEE ON APPLICATIONS.

The chairman of the Board of Managers shall appoint annually three members thereof as a Committee on Applications, whose duty it shall be to pass upon the applications of candidates for admission to the Society, and report to the Board of Managers.

SECTION XIX.—POWER OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The Board of Managers shall have power to expel any enrolled member of this Society who may, in the judgement of the Board, render himself unworthy to continue a member: Provided, That he shall have received at least thirty days' notice of the complaint preferred against him, and of the time and place for hearing the same, and have been thereby afforded an opportunity to be heard.

The Board of Managers shall also have the power to drop from the roll the name of any enrolled member of the Society who shall be at least two years in arrears in the payment of dues, and who, on notice to pay the same, shall fail and neglect to do so within thirty days thereafter, and, upon being thus dropped, his membership shall cease and terminate, but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Board of Managers on his application therefor, and upon his payment of all such arrears and of the annual dues from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration.

SECTION XX.—DEFECTIVE QUALIFICATION.

No person who may be enrolled as a member of this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership when the proofs of claim of qualification by descent are found to be defective and insufficient to substantiate such claim.

SECTION XXI.—DUTY OF MEMBERS.

It shall be a standing rule that, upon the decease of any member residing within the territorial jurisdiction of the Society, notice thereof and of the time and place of the funeral shall be given by the Secretary by publication, and it shall thereupon become the duty of the members, when practicable, to attend the obsequies.

Any member upon being informed of the decease of a member, resident as stated, shall make it his business to see that the Secretary is promptly notified of the fact.

SECTION XXII.—DATES OF MEETINGS.

(As amended February 22, 1905.)

Meetings of this Society shall be held on October nineteenth, the Anniversary of the Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and on February twenty-second Washington's birthday, the latter being the annual meeting for the election of officers. Should either of these dates fall on Sunday, then the meeting shall be held on the following day. In addition to the above, an out-of-door meeting may be held on or about June seventeenth in Commemoration of the Battle of Bunker Hill, and other meetings may be held at such time and place as may be deemed best by the Board of Managers, for each of which meetings a suitable program shall be arranged by the regular Committee on Entertainment.

SECTION XXIII.—FORMATION OF LOCAL CHAPTERS.

When ten or more members of the Society in the State of Ohio, residing within any county of the State outside of Hamilton County, Ohio, and Kenton and Campbell Counties, Kentucky, shall petition to the Board of Managers, it may authorize and empower such petitioners to form a local chapter to be known as the ..... Chapter of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution in the State of Ohio. Such Chapter, when authorized, may adopt such local regulations and by-laws as to it may seem proper, provided that such regulations do not conflict in any particular with the Constitution of the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution, or with the Constitution and by-laws of the Society in the State of Ohio.

Only members in good and regular standing in the Society in this State shall be eligible to membership in these Chapters. When any person ceases, through any cause, to be a member of the Society in the State of Ohio, his membership in a Chapter shall also terminate.

The officers of every Chapter shall be a President, Secretary, and Treasurer, and any other offices it may desire, and an Executive Committee constituted in such manner as it may prescribe.

Members of the State Society residing in adjoining counties shall be eligible to membership in the local Chapter nearest their place of residence.

The Senior officer of every local Chapter may attend the meetings of the Board of Managers of the Ohio State Society, notice whereof shall be sent to him by the Secretary of the State Society.

When an application for membership in this Society shall be made to the Board of Managers of this Society by any person residing within a locality comprised in a local Chapter, such application shall be first submitted to the Executive Committee of such local Chapter, and a report thereon to the Board of Managers of the State Society shall accompany such application before action thereon.

No local Chapter shall have power to involve the State Society in any pecuniary obligation.

The dues to the State Society of members of local Chapters shall be three (3) dollars per annum, as provided in Section IV; but local Chapters shall have the power to tax their members such a sum per annum, over and above the three dollars due to the State Society, as is considered necessary to carry on the work of such local Chapters.

SECTION XXIV.—ALTERATION OF THE BY-LAWS.

No alteration of the By-Laws of the Society shall be made unless such alteration shall have been proposed at a previous meeting, and shall be adopted by a majority of the members present at a subsequent meeting of the Society, at least one week's notice thereof having been given to each member.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

---

A period of ten years has elapsed since the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution last published a record of its activities. It may be well to review the work of the Society during that time, and, for the information of the membership, the Secretary has arranged in chronological order, events in the history of the organization since the year 1909.

The Society observed its Seventeenth Annual Meeting and celebrated the 177th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington on the evening of February 22, 1909, at the Queen City Club; the speakers of the evening were Professor Isaac J. Cox, of the University of Cincinnati, who addressed the Society on "The Many-Sided American Revolution," and Mr. Stanley E. Bowdle, who spoke on "Patriotism."

On June 5, 1909, the Annual Summer Outing was held in Berea, Kentucky, the delegation of Ohio Sons being the guests of Berea College for the day.

The Society celebrated the 128th Anniversary of the Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown on the evening of October 19, 1909, with a dinner at the Queen City Club, the final report of the Committee on Marking Graves of Revolutionary Soldiers was made by Mr. Robert Jones to the effect that the bronze tablet containing the names of Revolutionary Soldiers, who lie at rest in Hamilton County, had been completed and had been dedicated that afternoon with proper ceremonies, including music by the First Regiment Band and an address by Judge Miller Outcalt. In acknowledgment of the splendid work which covered several years, a vote of thanks was given the Committee and Robert Ralston Jones, its Chairman, was toasted as an expression of appreciation of his untiring zeal. The speaker of the evening was Professor Archer Butler Hulbert, Professor of American History at Marietta College, who spoke on "Arms and the Man," and portrayed Washington as a practical business man.

The 178th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington was celebrated and the Annual Meeting of the Society held on the evening of February 22, 1910, at the Queen City Club with a dinner, the speakers of the evening were Dr. Ellery C. Stowell, Dean of the College of Political Sciences of the George Washington University, Washington, D. C., who spoke on the subject of Washington's Farewell Address, and Mr. Albert Bettinger, who spoke on "Washington and the Ohio River." The latter declared that Washington was not only the Father of his Country, but had the distinction of being the Father of the movement for the Improvement of Water Ways. Professor Clement L. Martzloff of the Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, also addressed the Society on "Ohio, the First Fruit of the Revolution."

On July 2, 1910, the Annual Summer Outing of the Society was held at the summer home of Dr. George B. Orr, President of the Society and Mr. William T. Irwin at Milford, Ohio.

On the evening of October 19, 1910, at the Queen City Club, the Society celebrated the 129th Anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown with a banquet. Upon this occasion, fifteen Sons, members of various State Societies were the guests of the Society, all of whom were attending the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church being held at the time in Cincinnati. The speakers of the evening were Mr. Henry L. Chase of St. Louis, Missouri, who spoke on "The Spirit of the Sons of the Revolution—The Saving Grace of Our Modern Problems;" Rt. Rev. James Henry Darlington, D. D. Ph. D. L. L. D., the Bishop of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, gave a most interesting talk on "Loyalty and Patriotism;" Mr. James M. Lamberton of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Robert Brent Drane of Edenton, North Carolina, were called upon and each responded with impromptu remarks. The Rt. Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, President of the Missouri Society, Sons of the Revolution, Bishop of the Diocese of Missouri, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America gave a most inspiring talk. The program was closed with a brilliant talk by Col. Asa Bird Gardiner of Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the founders of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, President of the Rhode Island Society of Cincinnati, Secretary General of that order.

On the evening of February 22, 1911, the Society held its Annual Meeting with a dinner at the Queen City Club, celebrating the 179th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. The speaker of the evening, Professor Archibald H. Throckmorton, talked on "The Northwest and the Nation." General W. R. Warnock of Urbana, Ohio, was called upon for a few remarks.

The Annual Summer Outing was held in Oxford, Ohio, the delegation of Ohio Sons being the guests of the Miami University; morning service was participated in by several members; at noon the President, Dr. Guy Potter Benton, entertained with a luncheon. Western College was next visited and the reception given by the young ladies of the College to the Sons was a delightful affair.

On the evening of October 19, 1911, the Society celebrated the 130th Anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown with a dinner at the Queen City Club. The speakers of the evening were Mr. Robert Ralston Jones, who spoke on "The Trap;" Rev. Dr. Edward Mack of Lane Seminary, Historian of the Society, gave an address, "The Patriotism of Early Virginia," and General William R. Warnock of Urbana, in his usual happy strain spoke on "Washington at Yorktown." Mr. A. H. Pugh spoke on a matter relating to the organization of the Society.

The Society held its Annual Meeting on Thursday evening, February 22, 1912, at the Business Men's Club, Cincinnati, Ohio, celebrating the 180th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Mr. Hamilton Holt, the Managing Editor of The Independent, of New York City, gave an address on the topic of "The Federation of the World" dealing with the universal peace movement.

The Annual Summer Outing, held on July 13, 1912, was in the nature of a boat trip down the Ohio River on the Steamer Chilo, a stop over at the Fern Bank Government Dam, where that triumph of engineering was seen in operation under the direction of Mr. Robert Ralston Jones; after passing through the locks, the trip was made to the Great Miami, where the Chilo turned around and steamed back to Cincinnati, supper being served on the boat.

On Friday evening, October 18, 1912, at the Queen City Club, the Society celebrated the 131st Anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown. The speaker on this occasion was Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schenk, who made an address on "Stars and History."

The Annual Meeting and Dinner of the Society was held on Saturday evening, February 22, 1913, at the Queen City Club, celebrating the 181st Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Professor Randall J. Condon, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Cincinnati, gave a most inspiring talk on "The Teaching of Patriotism, Field Work in History." After the business session, Hon. Alberto C. Shattuck addressed the Society on "The Spirit of the Revolution—Our Heritage."

On Sunday evening, April 20, 1913, the Society commemorated the 138th Anniversary of the Battle of Lexington with a religious service at the Mt. Auburn Baptist Church, Cincinnati, Ohio. The services were conducted by the Chaplain, Rev. Harry Thurston Crane, assisted by Rev. Dr. Edward Mack and a sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Calvin Dill Wilson of Glendale, Ohio.

The Annual Summer Outing was held in Lebanon, Ohio, Saturday, June 26, 1913, where the Model French Farm and Dairy was visited. After an afternoon of sightseeing and athletics, dinner was served at the French Farm at six o'clock P. M.

The 132nd Anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown was celebrated with a dinner, Saturday evening, October 18, 1913, at the Queen City Club. Hon. Stanley E. Bowdle addressed the Society on "The Social Outlook." Hon. William Walker Smith, Assistant Secretary to the American Embassy, at Berne, Switzerland, described the constitution and politics, the conditions and the manner of living in the small European Republic.

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held on Monday evening, February 23, 1914, at the Queen City Club, with a dinner, celebrating the 182nd Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Judge James B. Swing of Cincinnati, Ohio, delivered a delightful address on "Washington."

The Annual Summer Outing was held on Thursday, June 18, 1914, with an evening dinner at the Summer Garden of Alexander Philippi, Westwood, Cincinnati, Ohio, the delegation making the trip in special electric cars.

The Society observed the 133rd Anniversary of the Yorktown Surrender on Monday evening, October 19, 1914, with a dinner at the Queen City Club. Mr. William V. Ebersole of Cincinnati related "Some Experiences Near the European War Zone," which he and his party passed through during the first days of the World War. Mr. Philip Hinkle of Cincinnati read a paper on "Some Almost Local Events of the Revolution." Rev. Dr. William Goodell Frost, President of Berea College, was called upon to tell about his work among the Southern mountaineers. Dr. Frost called upon Sidney Ruffin Rust, a graduate of Berea in the Class of 1914, who told the story of his life, and thanked the Society for the financial assistance which it had given him while at Berea College.

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held on Monday evening, February 22, 1915, with a dinner at the University Club, Cincinnati, Ohio, celebrating the 183rd Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. General J. Tandy Ellis of Frankfort, Kentucky, gave a humorous talk "On His Own Footing." Mr. Lathrop C. Grant, Director of the Immigrant Welfare Committee of the City of Cincinnati, gave an exhaustive account of the work of the Committee and urged the Society to do all it can to help Americanize the immigrants in our midst.

The Annual Bunker Hill Day Summer Outing of the Society was observed with an out-of-doors dinner at Philippi's Summer Garden, Westwood, Thursday evening, June 17, 1915.

The 134th Anniversary of the Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown was celebrated on Tuesday evening, October 19, 1915, with a dinner at the University Club. The speaker of the evening was Rev. William F. Anderson, D. D., LL. D., Resident Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, who addressed the Society on "America's Primacy in the Sisterhood of Nations."

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held on Tuesday evening, February 22, 1916, at the Sinton Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio, with a dinner celebrating the 184th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. The speakers on this occasion were Professor Clarence D. Stevens of the University of Cincinnati, who spoke on "The American Patriot"; Hon. Warren Gard, Congressman, Third District of Ohio, Hamilton, Ohio, addressed the Society on "The Call of the Times". A resolution offered by Ward Baldwin was adopted, authorizing the appointment of a Committee on National Preparedness.

On Sunday Morning, April 30, 1916, the Society, with the Daughters of the American Revolution participating, commemorated the Battle of Lexington with a religious service at Grace Church, Avondale, Cincinnati, Ohio. The services were conducted by an Ohio Son, the Rev. George Heathcote Hills, Rector of the Church, who delivered a stirring patriotic sermon.

Bunker Hill Day was celebrated on June 17, 1916, by a trip up the Ohio River on the Steamer Chilo to Point Pleasant, O., the birthplace of General U. S. Grant, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Society of Colonial Wars also participated in the outing; supper was served on the steamer during the return trip.

On the afternoon of June 24, 1916, seventy-five of the local membership marched in the Patriotic Preparedness Parade, under the Banner of the Society. Our column was headed by "The Spirit of 1776," reproduced in life by three descendants of Revolutionary ancestors.

The Society observed the 135th Anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown on Thursday evening, October 19, 1916, with a dinner at the Sinton Hotel. A silent toast was drunk to the memory of Elbert Pike Marshall, late President of the Society, who was taken by death on June 2, 1916. The orator of the occasion was William Arthur Ganfield, A. M., D. D., President of Center College, Danville, Kentucky. His address on "The New Citizenship" was one of the most magnetic ever delivered at an anniversary session of the Society. Prof. John Uri Lloyd was called upon for a few remarks, and his talk was a gem of sincerity. Hon. George Eltweed Pomeroy of Toledo, Ohio, Registrar of the General Society, arrived late and was called upon for a talk before the close of the program.

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held on Thursday evening, February 22, 1917, in the Tea Room of the Sinton Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio, with a dinner celebrating the 185th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Mr. William Foust Wiley, Managing Editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, addressed the Society on "Every Day Patriotism." The Right Rev. Theodore Irving Reese, D. D., Columbus, Ohio, Bishop Co-adjutor of the Episcopal Church in Southern Ohio, spoke on "The Religion of George Washington."

A Commemorative, Patriotic and Religious Service was held on Sunday morning, April 29, 1917, at the Walnut Hills Congregational Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, where a splendid address, "The Spirit of Alexander Hamilton," was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Seeley K. Tompkins.

The 136th Anniversary of the Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown was celebrated with a dinner on Friday evening, October 19, 1917, at the Sinton Hotel. The speaker of the evening was J. Archibald Holmes, D. D., Pastor of the Hyde Park M. E. Church, a Spanish-American War veteran, who addressed the Society on "The Logic of Events."

On Friday evening, February 22, 1918, the Ohio Society commemorated the 186th Anniversary of the birth of George Washington and at the same time the Silver (25th) Anniversary of the organization of the Society. This dual celebration was held in the Ballroom of the Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati, Ohio. The addresses of the evening were two in number: James G. Stewart, Cincinnati, Ohio, gave eloquent and affirmative answer to the question "Is the Spirit of 1776 the Spirit of America Today?" The Rev. Seeley K. Tompkins, Cincinnati, Ohio, spoke on "Washington and the New World Organization." Informal remarks were made by John Stephen Crowell of Springfield, Ohio, and Grosvenor Norris, of the 136th Field Artillery, in khaki, paid a brief tribute to the way Uncle Sam takes care of his boys at Camp Sheridan. The celebration ended with the singing in chorus of "America."

Bunker Hill Day was commemorated by a joint celebration of the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution, the Society of Colonial Wars, the Society of Colonial Dames and the Daughters of the American Revolution of Cincinnati and vicinity, on Monday evening, June 17, 1918, with an informal dinner at the Fort Mitchell Country Club, Ft. Mitchell, Kentucky, and the affair was a huge success.

On the evening of November 26, 1918, the Society celebrated the downfall of Germany with a "Victory Dinner," at the same time commemorating the 137th Anniversary of the Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, the usual October meeting having been postponed by reason of the influenza epidemic, which had gripped the city for six weeks. The dual celebration was held in the Ballroom of the Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati, Ohio. The "Assembly Bugle Call" was given by Master Charles L. Bonifield, Jr., the guests formed a column and marched into the Ballroom where the colors were saluted and the Star Spangled Banner sung by all. Rev. Harry T. Crane was called upon for the invocation, and President James Potter Orr proposed a toast to the President of the United States. The following toasts were proposed by four members:

- "Our Boys Over There" ..... Rev. Selby F. Vance.
- "Marshall Foch" ..... Lewis N. Gatch.
- "General Pershing" ..... Hon. Alberto C. Shattuck.
- "Admiral Sims" ..... Charles Lewis.

The original program was a series of pleasant and amusing surprises; in the midst of the festivities, the "Spirit of 1776," that historic painting of the American Revolution, reproduced in life suddenly appeared and the guests formed a column behind and marched around the Ballroom floor to the music of fife and drum. Dr. Ashton Bryant Heyl, Cincinnati, an old friend and comrade in arms of General John J. Pershing related several interesting incidents which occurred out west in the nineties when Pershing was a Second Lieutenant and known as "Black Jack" Pershing. Ren Mulford, Jr., presented the following resolution and moved its adoption, which was enthusiastically done and copies ordered mailed to all the Senators and Representatives of Ohio in Washington—"Ohio Sons of the Revolution, heirs of freedom won by their forbears, fervently declare that there should be no room in America for the Red Flag. The man or woman who insults Old Glory by waving the banner of Anarchy is a traitor. We petition our Senators and Representatives in Washington to urge and support legislation that will punish such treason with deportation as the minimum degree of punishment."

President Orr proposed a silent toast to the memory of Robert Douglas Meacham, whose life is represented by the first gold star on the Service Flag, the thirty-four names of which appeared on the Honor Roll of Ohio Sons in the Service, which stood draped with Old Glory at one end of the Ballroom.

Harry B. Mackoy recited the poem, "The Avenue of the Allies", by Albert Noyes. Dr. Charles L. Bonifield and Mr. Joseph Wilby both told some good stories.

Hon. Harry L. Gordon, former Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio, stated in his splendid address, "that every enemy-alien who had been interned in the United States should be deported to the land whence he came". A resolution to this effect was adopted later amid cheers. Mr. Mackoy remarked upon the splendid spirit of fellowship and good cheer of the meeting; tribute was paid Mr. Henry McCoy Norris, Chairman of the Committee on Entertainment for the success, and three cheers given President Orr.

The program was completed by all singing "Auld Lang Syne", led by the Amphion Glee Club.

During the past ten years the Ohio Society, carrying out the plan of aiding descendants of Revolutionary Soldiers among the mountaineers, has given $1400.00 to Berea College for scholarships and prize money. The Sons of the Republic has benefitted to the amount of $350.00, given by the Ohio Society for their patriotic work among the boys of Cincinnati. Other gifts included $50.00 to the fund for the removal of the Old Kemper Homestead to the Zoo; $50.00 to the George Washington Memorial Fund; $62.00 to the Soldiers Library Fund and $50.00 to the Cincinnati Chapter Daughters of the Revolution for the Girl Home Makers, an immigrant aid.

Patriotism is love of one's country; the passion which aims to serve one's country, either in defending it from invasion, or protecting its rights, and maintaining its laws and institutions in vigor and purity, it is characteristic of a good citizen, the noblest passion that animates a man in the character of the citizen.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANTS

The application must be presented upon the forms issued by the Society. The records of the ancestor's military service should be given fully, but concisely.

The Society does not accept Encyclopedias, Genealogical Works, or Town or County Histories, except such as contain Rosters, as authorities for proofs of service.

In referring to printed works, the volume and page should be given.

References to authorities, in manuscript must be accompanied by certified copies, and authentic family records must be submitted, if required.

Every application must be signed by the applicant, and sworn to by him, and it must be endorsed by two members of the Society.

When the applicant is not personally known to any member of the Society, whom he can ask to recommend his application, he must submit to the Secretary, when he files his papers, the names of two reputable citizens of the State to whom he refers by permission.

When an applicant claims descent from more than one Revolutionary ancestor, then "Supplementary" application must be made for each ancestor.

Supplementary claims are to be treated in the form and procedure precisely as original applications. No extra cost for filing supplementary claims.

Before making search for proofs, the applicant must know the State the ancestor served from, and in writing officials simply ask for "the military service of A. B., said to have been a soldier in the Revolutionary War," and information will be given as to what rank they find, and any other data the records show. Also, give the name of town or county he served from, if known. And correspond with the following officials and others, named in the various States, for certificates of military service, and the fees for the same.

CONNECTICUT. Write State Librarian, Hartford, Connecticut. No charge is made for making a research and a certificate of Service is also furnished without cost to applicant.

DELAWARE. Write to Walter G. Tatnall, State Archivist, Dover, Delaware. This State is now publishing Volume 3 of Revolutionary Records. A photostatic copy of record is furnished as a certificate of Service at a cost of $1.50 for the first copy, 50 cents each for additional copies.

GEORGIA. Write Secretary, Georgia Historical Society, Savannah. Ordinarily there is no charge made to furnish certificate of Service, as the Society is glad to render any reasonable service of this character free of charge. If, however, the information involves much labor, a moderate charge is made.

MAINE. Write State Librarian, Augusta, who will make a certificate of a record without charge. Where extensive research work is necessary, the matter is referred to Miss Jessica Haskell of Hallowell, who charges 30 cents an hour, with a minimum charge of $1.00.

In former year Books applicants were instructed to write the Bureau of Industrial and Labor Statistics, Augusta. The Commission writes the Secretary that it is a mistake to write for such information, as this Department has nothing to do with War Records, directly or indirectly.

MARYLAND. Write Commissioner of Land Office, Annapolis, who will make a research for name at a cost of $1.00; if name is found, certificate is furnished without further charge.

MASSACHUSETTS. Write Secretary of the Commonwealth, Boston. No charge is made for answers to queries as to military service, but a fee of $1.00 is required in advance for a certificate of such service.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. Write Secretary of State, Concord, New Hampshire. The monetary charge for every certificate made in this office is 50 cents, with additional charge for research work.

NEW JERSEY. Write to Adjutant-General, Trenton, New Jersey, who will cause a search to be made at a cost of 50 cents; an additional charge of $1.50 for furnishing a certificate; all State records are under his supervision.

NEW YORK. Write Director of Manuscript Section, New York State Library, Albany, New York. Since the fire of 1911 destroyed so many of the original records, the State has not been issuing formal certificates of Service; however, an informal statement of Service obtained from printed records will be furnished without charge.

NORTH CAROLINA. Judge Walter Clark, of the Supreme Court, wrote as follows: "The Revolutionary rolls of this State are irretrievably lost, and all that can be found is a list of the officers of the ten Continental Regiments from North Carolina, which were a very small part of the force North Carolina, from time to time, put in the field, and a few fragments of the roll of the rank and file of those Regiments." The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association has the list of officers of the ten Regiments mentioned above, which can be consulted.

PENNSYLVANIA. Write State Librarian, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, who will cause a search to be made to find the name. The only cost is $1.00 for the certificate, as required by Act of Assembly. The State Library is endeavoring to gather as large an amount of genealogical data as possible, and is re-organizing its entire lists of manuscripts pertaining to the American Revolution.

RHODE ISLAND. Write State Record Commissioner, Providence, Rhode Island. No fee is required for general research, but for attested certificates issued to non-residents a fee of $1.00 is charged.

SOUTH CAROLINA. Write Secretary, Historical Commission of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C. A charge for a certified copy of service, obtained from manuscripts is $2.07, plus a minimum charge of 50 cents for copying, maximum charge 10 cents per 100 words.

Records of Revolutionary Soldiers are quite numerous, but only partially available and indexed. No search will be made beyond indexed records.

VERMONT. Write Adjutant-General, Montpelier. Certified copy of military record will be furnished for $1.00.

VIRGINIA. The Revolutionary records of this State are very complete as the War Department has recently furnished the State Library with complete records. Write State Librarian, Richmond, Virginia; a charge of $2.00, payable in advance, is made for furnishing a certified copy of the record of any soldier whose name appears in lists of Revolutionary Soldiers from Virginia, provided the record consists of no more than five entries, 50 cents being charged for certified copy of each additional entry.

The fees should in all cases accompany the inquiry; and where no charge is made for research, if the name is not found, the money will be returned to applicant by the officials.

For the purpose of further assisting applicants for membership, a complete list of publications, pertaining to the American Revolution, in the Cincinnati Public Library is given on the following pages.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSIONERS

There were no pension laws passed by Congress until the year 1818, excepting for the relief of those disabled in the service, so that all who were not disabled, and who died previous to the year 1818 drew no pensions. The first pension act of 1818 granted pensions to those only who had served nine months or more in the Continental Army or Navy (the "Continental Army" must not be confounded with the State troops, Militia or Minutemen). Under this act of 1818, about eight thousand men applied for pensions, which number so alarmed Congress that it passed in 1820, what became known as the "Alarm" act, which required that before the beneficiaries of the act of 1818 could longer receive its benefits they must go before some court and make a schedule of their property, and affirm that they were in "need of the assistance of their country for a support." The effect of this "Alarm" act was that large numbers had their pride touched, after making so many sacrifices and enduring such hardships for the Nation, and they refused to exhibit to the world their estate, while others could not make oath that they were in need of their country's assistance so we find in the pension records after many names "dropped under the act of 1820", and the survivors were not restored until several years after.

The number of pensioners having become so reduced by death, Congress, in 1832, passed an act granting pensions to all officers and soldiers, whether Continental, State or Militia, who had served for any period not less than six months. Even this act left out many who had served acceptably for a period of less than six months.

The widows of Revolutionary soldiers drew pensions, provided they were married prior to 1853, so that the military record of the soldier who did not draw a pension himself can be found through the papers filed by the widow.

In the Year Book of the Ohio Society, published in 1897, will be found a list of 2600 pensioners in the State of Ohio. The Ohio Society has access to the following rare and valuable Public Documents, giving lists of pensioners—"SENATE DOCUMENTS, TWENTY-THIRD CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION, VOLS. 12, 13, 14" being the pension roll of 1835, and contains the names of all who had been placed on the roll to that date, about 90,000 names. These volumes are in the Cincinnati Public Library. Reference to them may be made under U. S. Serial Number 249-251.

"CENSUS OF PENSIONERS FOR REVOLUTIONARY OR MILITARY SERVICES", containing the list of pensioners that were alive in 1840, about 34,000 names, with ages and places of residence at that time.

If applicants have reason to believe their ancestors drew a pension under the acts of 1818 and 1832, if they will request the Secretary of the Ohio Society, he will make an examination of these pension rolls to see if he can find the name. But applicants must be particular to inform him where the supposed pensioner was living when he was drawing a pension between the years 1818 and 1840, also what State he served from during the war. These pension rolls are not arranged alphabetically, only by States, hence the necessity of knowing what State the pensioner lived in when drawing his pension.

If the Secretary finds the name he will inform the applicant, who can then write the Honorable Commissioner of Pensions, at Washington, asking for a copy of the ancestor's military history. There is no cost attached for obtaining this data from the Commissioner, and it usually takes about thirty days to get a reply.

A mistaken idea prevails that there is on file in the Adjutant-General's office, in Washington, complete Rosters of the soldiers of the Revolutionary War, and that it is only necessary to write to that department to obtain a record of the ancestor's service. There are no complete Rosters of the Revolutionary soldiers in any department of the Government, nor anywhere else. The Rosters that were on file in the War Department were lost by the destruction of the temporary building, in which they were stored, by fire, in 1800, and again by the burning of the public buildings, by the British, in 1814.

The records remaining in the different departments at Washington containing the names of Revolutionary soldiers have been transferred to the office of the Adjutant General, War Department, who will furnish, free of charge, the record of any Revolutionary soldier on the rolls of his office. The Adjutant-General requires an applicant for information to give the name of the State the ancestor served from, also to give the relationship of the ancestor to the applicant, and the purpose for which he desires the information.

The most complete Rosters are found in the Archives of the old original thirteen States, and these in some instances are only fragmentary, some States having lost their entire Rosters. So when the records of whole regiments are lost it is not strange that an individual name cannot always be found.

The Secretary of the Ohio Society makes no charge for an examination of the volumes or documents in the Library of the Society, to assist applicants to become members of the Society.

TELEGRAM SENT TO PRESIDENT WILSON

BY THE

---

The following telegram, drafted by Mr. Ren Mulford, Jr., was sent to President Wilson on the evening of February 22, 1918, by the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution.

To the President,
Washington, D. C.

On this historic day, Washington's Birthday and the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of our organization, the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution send you this fervent God-bless-you. May you be given greater power to awaken from their dreams those indifferent Americans not yet fully aroused to the peril that lies in the selfish covetousness of the Imperial Burglars of the House of Hohenzollern. Let Americans thunder the vow that no Twentieth Century successors of the Hessians who fought Washington, can, with the treacherous aid of Pacificist Tories of today, put the World's Liberty in pawn to a Degenerate Autocracy. To this end every son of the Revolution consecrates his life, that the inheritance of our fathers, liberty won for all sons of Earth, may be safeguarded from plotters within and wreckers of international law without.

Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution.

THE REPLY OF THE PRESIDENT

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

Personal.

February 23, 1918.

My dear Sir:

The President asks me to thank you and Mr. Mulford for the reassuring telegram which you addressed to him in the name of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, and to tell you and everyone concerned that he deeply appreciates your generous and patriotic sentiments. He is grateful for your approbation and pledge of support.

Sincerely yours,

J. P. TUMULTY,
Secretary to the President.

Mr. A. C. Shattuck, President,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

RESOLUTION
GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX
BY THE

The following resolution was presented by Ren Mulford, Jr., and unanimously adopted at the Annual meeting of the Ohio Society, February 22, 1919:

"The Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, send hearty greetings to Governor Cox with the enthusiastic thanks of the membership for his 100 per cent. American effort to stamp out the last outcroppings of German propaganda in Ohio."

"The Society herewith indorses proposed legislation, state and national, that will discourage the study of the language of Prussianism in the United States of America."

The "Liberty Boys" of New York, 1776. At the beginning of the Revolution, many military organizations came into existence. They were equipped with whatever arms could be secured, fire-locks, muskets or fowling-pieces. Their uniforms, if they had such distinguishing dress, differed in color, cut and ornamentation. One of the earliest companies of this kind in New York City was known as the "Liberty Boys". Their uniforms consisted of blue coats with white facings, white waistcoats and trousers and black caps, with upturned peaks.

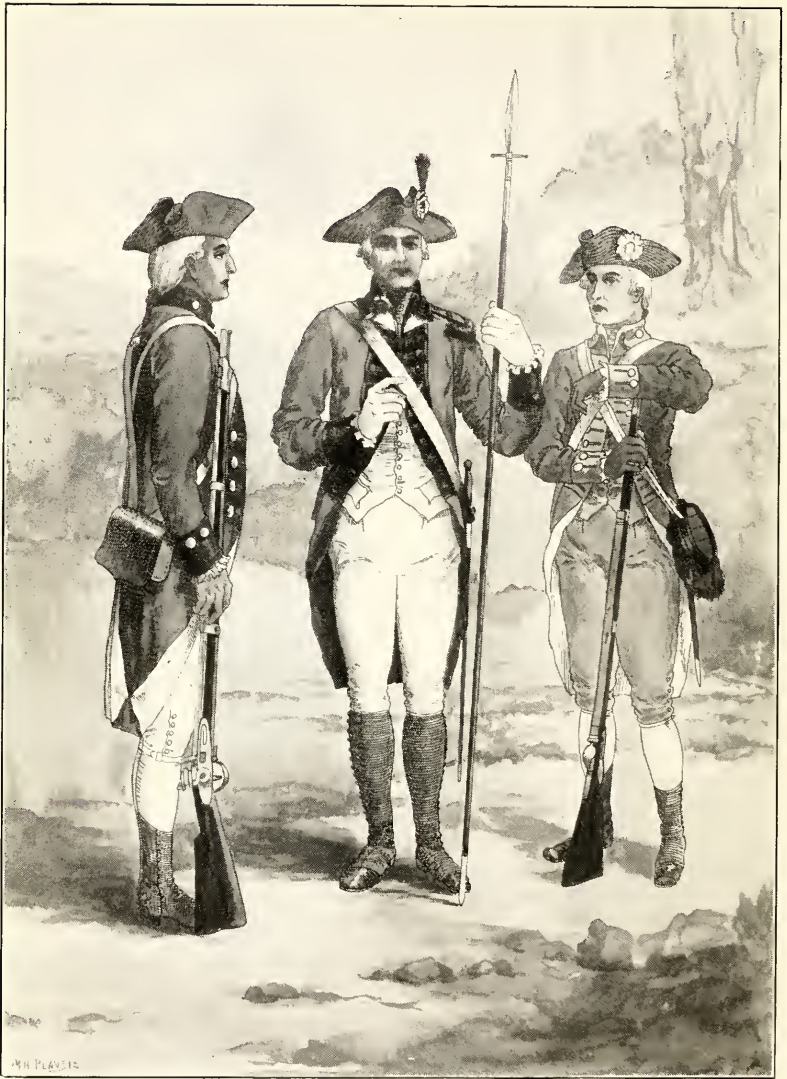

The "Minute-Men" of Lexington and Bunker Hill 1775, wore the civilian garb or hunter's dress of their time. Many of them had seen service in the French and Indian wars but they lacked the discipline of trained soldiers. Their only weapon was a flint-lock musket or fowling-piece, but this fact did not deter them from pledging themselves to leave their homes and families at a minute's notice to meet the flower of the British army. The officers had no distinguishing marks, and carried a gun and powder horn like the others.

The Maryland Riflemen, 1776, were organized from the hunters and trappers of Maryland. Other States had like companies, notably Virginia, with a regiment of sharpshooters known as the Eleventh Virginia, commanded by Col. Daniel Morgan. These troops were uniformed in home spun, with a hunting shirt of white, green, black or other color dyed in the home. The trousers were long and buttoned tightly around the lower part of the legs, and the whole costume was usually fringed at the edges. A fur-trimmed hunting cap completed the outfit.

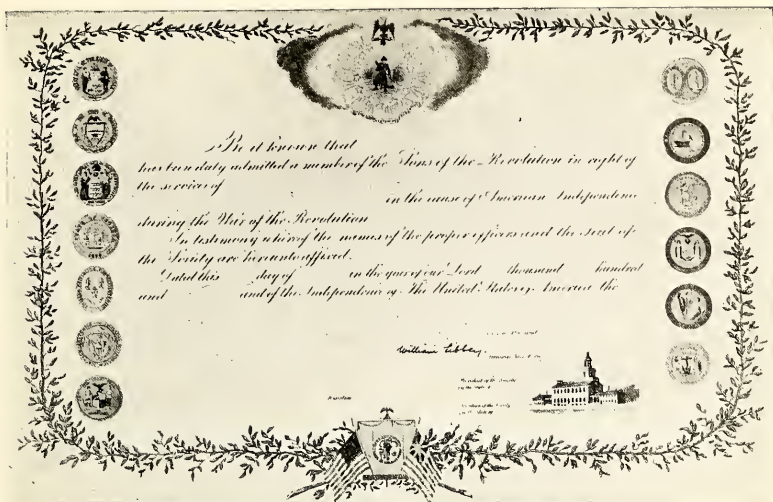

The Pennsylvania Light Infantry, 1776, was another of the organizations which, at the beginning of the Revolution, had a distinctive uniform. The dress consisted of a brown coat with buff trimmings, long trousers buttoned at the ankle and a cocked hat bound with white braid. They were equipped with light rifles and each soldier wore a cartridge box slung on a broad belt over the left shoulder. These troops saved the day for the Americans at the Battle of Princeton under the genius of General Washington.

American Uniforms of 1779. It was not until after France recognized the American Colonies as an independent nation that General Washington issued the order which prescribed the uniforms to be worn by the officers and privates in the various units of our army. The line regiments were grouped according to their colonies. The blue coat was specified for all, but New York and New Jersey troops wore the blue coat with buff facings; New England, white; the middle colonies (Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland), red; while the Southern States (North and South Carolina and Georgia), wore blue facings. All troops wore the black cocked hat with a cockade on the side. Company officers wore but one epaulet on the shoulder. The captain wore one on the right shoulder; the lieutenant wore one on the left. Hence the name "Leftenant." Officers were armed with a straight sword and pike. The officer in the illustration is a lieutenant of the Virginia line. The private at his right is from Delaware, while at his left is a New Jersey infantryman.

EDWARD LOWELL ANDERSON.

Edward Lowell Anderson, son of Larz Anderson and Catherine Longwood Anderson, was born in Cincinnati, October 4th, 1842. He was second in descent from Richard Clough Anderson (1750-1826) who served with distinction as an officer in the Continental Army.

Edward Lowell Anderson attended Exeter Academy, and a military school at Beverwyck Manor, New York, which he left at the beginning of the Civil War to enter the army. From 1862 to 1865 he served as First Lieutenant and Captain in the 52nd Ohio Infantry; was a member of the staff of General William T. Sherman; and took part in the battles of Perryville, Murfreesboro, Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, Kenesaw Mountain, Jonesboro, where he was wounded and other engagements, and was mustered out at the end of the war.

On December 5th, 1865, he married Mary Fore of Cincinnati.

In 1866 he was admitted to the bar.

He was a member of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, the G. A. R. Society, and the Loyal Legion.

He was the author of "Northern Ballads," 1874; "Soldier and Pioneer," 1879; "Six Weeks in Norway," 1877; "Modern Horsemanship," 1884; "Curb, Snaffel and Spur," 1894; "Riding and Driving," (with Price Collier) 1905; and other works.

He died on March 29th, 1916, at his home on the Grandin Road, Cincinnati.

GEORGE ARMSTRONG.

1845-1912.

George Armstrong died April 30th, 1912, at his residence, in Mt. Auburn, Cincinnati. He was born in New York, January 29th, 1845. He was engaged in the Printing and Bookbinding business at 419 Elm Street, Cincinnati.

Mr. Armstrong claimed his descent and right of membership through Jacob Parker of Haverstraw, New York, who served as a private in the Orange County Regiment, New York Militia, commanded by Colonel Ann Hawkes Hay.

Mr. Armstrong was a member of the Mt. Auburn Baptist Church. The funeral services were conducted in his home, by his pastor, Rev. Harry T. Crane, on May 2nd, 1912. He was a member of the Masonic Order and of many clubs. He is survived by a widow, and by his son, who is a member of this Society.

He was admitted to the Ohio Society of Sons of the Revolution on February 9th, 1900.

JOHN GORDON BATTELLE.

1845-1918.

John Gordon Battelle was born in Clarksburg, Virginia, May 12, 1845. He was not of Southern stock, but came of a long line of English colonists who had rendered conspicuous service in the pioneer development of the American colonies.

Thomas Battelle, the founder of the family in America, came from England about 1640, and settled in Dedham, Massachusetts.

John Battelle, second child of Thomas Battelle, was born July 1st, 1652, and died September 20th, 1712.

Ebenezer Battelle, fourth child of John Battelle, was born January 22nd, 1691, and died March 6th, 1759.

Ebenezer Battelle 2nd, sixth child of Ebenezer Battelle, was born January 10th, 1729, and died November 6th, 1776. He was Captain of a company on the occasion of the Lexington Alarm, April 19th, 1775.

Ebenezer Battelle 3rd, second child of Ebenezer Battelle 2nd, was born February 4th, 1754. He served under his father as a volunteer at Lexington, and subsequently served through the war as a Major in the First Suffolk Regiment. Later he was Colonel of Militia by appointment of the Governor of Massachusetts, and a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, the oldest secular organization in the United States. In 1775 he was graduated from Harvard, and in 1781, in partnership with Isaiah Thomas, he established a book store in Boston, which was the foundation of the present well known publishing house of Little, Brown & Co. Colonel Battelle was a member of the Ohio Company and one of its agents. With the second colony he left Boston in April, 1788, traveling by sea and road, and arrived at Marietta, Ohio, in May where he established his home. He died at the residence of his son in Newport, Washington County, Ohio, in the year 1815, in his sixty-first year.

Ebenezer Battelle 4th, second child of Colonel Ebenezer Battelle, was born in Dedham, Mass., August 8th, 1778, and died in Washington County, Ohio, on January 2nd, 1876, in his ninety-eight year.

Rev. Gordon Battelle, D. D., seventh child of the preceding, was born in Newport, Washington County, Ohio, November 14th, 1814. He was one of the most active and distinguished clergymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church, serving congregations in Ohio and Virginia, and was a leader in the fight against slavery. He was a chaplain in the First Regiment Virginia Volunteers (Union), and died in 1862 of illness resulting from his devotion to the sick and wounded of his own and other commands. The care of his wife and seven children fell largely upon the shoulders of his only son, John Gordon Battelle, then a lad of seventeen preparing for college.

At the age of eighteen, John Gordon Battelle entered the employment of the United States Treasury Department as a clerk, and later served in the Quartermaster's Department, being stationed at Wheeling, W. Va. When twenty-one years of age he became the secretary and general superintendent of the Norway Manufacturing Company of Wheeling, and from that time until his death was actively engaged in the production of iron and steel. During the later years of his life he was President of the Columbus Steel and Iron Company, recently merged with the American Rolling Mill Company, and was director and stockholder in many other important enterprises.

On February 10th, 1881, Mr. Battelle was married at Memphis, Tenn., to Miss Annie M. Norton, who with a son, Gordon Battelle, survives him.

Colonel Battelle always had a wholesome interest in politics, being a Republican of decided views. He was commissioned Colonel and A. D. C. on the Military Staff of Governor Nash of Ohio. He served for many years as a Director of the National Association of Manufacturers, and was prominent in other trade, civic, fraternal, historical and other organizations, among which were the following:—Sons of the Revolution; Society of Colonial Wars; Ohio Society of New York; American Geographical Society; Loyal Legion; Sportsmen's Association of Cheat Mountain; the Columbus Club; the Arlington Club, and others.

On May 10th, 1918, Colonel Battelle passed away at his home in Columbus, Ohio.

EPHRAIM ROBERT BLAINE.

1858-1911.

Ephraim Robert Blaine died suddenly from an apoplectic stroke early in the morning of October 17th, 1911, at his apartments in the Auburndale, Mt. Auburn. He was born at Maysville, Kentucky, November 23rd, 1858, being at the time of his death fifty-two years of age.

Mr. Blaine removed from his boyhood home to Lexington, Kentucky, where for years and under several Presidential administrations, both Republican and Democratic, he held the office of Deputy Revenue Collector. He then became associated with John Brisbane Walker, at that time publisher of the Cosmopolitan Magazine; and somewhat later removed to Cincinnati to become manager of the Procter & Collier Company, advertisers, holding this position for a number of years. At the time of his death he was President of the Blaine-Thompson Company, a large and successful advertising firm of Cincinnati. With him in this firm was associated Mr. Ren. Mulford, Jr., a member of this Society, and at present one of its Board of Managers.

Mr. Blaine was closely identified with the civic and commercial interests of Cincinnati. He was a member of the Business Men's Club; was an officer, and for a time in this year Acting-President, of the Commercial Association of Cincinnati. It was under his leadership, and largely due to his efforts, that by the recent "whirlwind campaign" twelve hundred members were added to this Association; he was chairman of its Publicity Committee, and a member of its Industrial Committee. He served recently as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Fernbank Dam Association, by unselfish and untiring work contributing greatly to the success of the recent celebration at the opening of this Dam. Mr. Blaine was an ardent worker for the progress of Cincinnati, in advertising the city's resources, and in enlarging its trade relations. He will be sorely missed in this new and progressing era of Cincinnati's progressive movement.

Mr. Blaine was a member of the Mt. Auburn Presbyterian Church, and while not an officer, was assigned to duty on some of its important committees. His body was laid to rest in his native town, Maysville, in the hope of everlasting life, the funeral services being conducted by the Rev. John Barbour, D. D., Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Maysville.

Mr. Blaine is survived by a widow, a sister and three brothers, one of whom, Mr. John Ewing Blaine, resides in Cincinnati, and is a member and an ex-president of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution. He was also a first cousin of that peerless statesman, James G. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was a man of gentle, but noble and purposeful nature; entirely unselfish in disposition, and possessing many traits of heroism. Our sympathy for the wife, so suddenly bereaved, is sincere and deep; and likewise also our hearts are deeply moved for the brother and nephew, who are members of this Society.

Mr. Blaine was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, December 28th, 1895, claiming descent from Ephraim Blaine, Commissary General of Purchases in the Continental Army, 1780-1782.

CORNELIUS CADLE.

Colonel Cornelius Cadle will not sit with us again in the counsels of this Board, nor share with us the festivities and fellowship of our patriotic anniversaries, for on January 13th, 1913, he laid aside his armor and his honors to pass into eternal rest.

Colonel Cadle was a patriot and a chivalrous soldier, for the honors, which he wore, were won and well-deserved. Volunteering from Iowa, his adopted State, at the outbreak of the Civil War, he served throughout that War in the Army of the West, participating in the battles of Shiloh, Pittsburg, Chickamauga and others of the Tennessee Campaign. He was with Sherman in the Atlanta Campaign, and served to the end of the war. He rose to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, serving as Assistant Adjutant General when Sherman assumed command of the Army of the Tennessee.

He was interested and prominent in the Loyal Legion, serving officially both in its Local and National Commanderies.

He was also an officer of the association of the Army of the Tennessee; and served as a member of the Government Commission in charge of the Shiloh Battlefield to within a short time of his last illness.

He was prominent in other loyal and patriotic associations.

Colonel Cadle was born in New York City, May 22, 1836. In early life he moved to the West, being a resident of Iowa at the time of his enlistment for the Civil War. He remained in the Army after the close of the War, serving in Alabama as Assistant Adjutant General to General Wager Swaine. He then remained in that State to engage in the coal and iron industry. Going from Montgomery to Pike County, he discovered and opened up extensive fields. The town of Blockton, Alabama, with three thousand inhabitants, is a monument to his industry and success. It now stands where he found the undeveloped and untenanted wilderness.

In 1894, he accepted the Chairmanship of the National Commission for the Shiloh Battlefield, continuing to serve until four years ago, failing health influenced him to resign. What has been achieved in transforming this field of carnage into a park and a memorial for the nation, is due chiefly to Colonel Cadle. In Cincinnati, which he had made his home since his appointment as Chairman of the Shiloh Commission, he was widely esteemed for his virtues and for his knightly graces, holding a prominent place as citizen and man. His soldierly bearing, his unvarying courtesy, his interest in the patriotic associations of our nation, and his loyalty to the highest ideals and the foundation principles of the American government, are memories which we cherish and shall hold sacred to his memory while we live.

Colonel Cadle was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, on June 26, 1895, being third in descent from John Fiske, who was born in Massachusetts in 1741, was a citizen of Framingham, Massachusetts, and died there in 1819. Fiske served as a private in the Company of Captain Simon Edgill, Lexington Alarm, April 19, 1775.

Colonel Cadle was a member of the Board of Managers of this Society in 1896, served as Third Vice-President in 1897; Second Vice-President in 1898; First Vice-President in 1899; and was elected President in 1900.

According to his own preference, often expressed, his body was cremated on January 17, 1913. His ashes are resting in Muscatine, Iowa, in the family vault, between the remains of his father and his mother. He is survived by his widow, four brothers and a sister, who is the wife of the American Consul at Amsterdam.

So has passed from our view and from the honored place which he held in our fellowship, another of those war-proved heroes, another of those loyal citizens of peace, who are the noblest treasures of their and our country.

CHARLES HENRY CASTLE.

1862-1918.

Dr. Charles Henry Castle, son of James H. Castle and Phoebe Ann Dick, was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on November 28th, 1862.

Dr. Castle came of noted Colonial ancestry on both sides. Dr. Archibald Dick, who attended George Washington on his death bed, was a brother of Dr. Castle's maternal grandfather. His maternal grandmother was a Rogers, a descendant of Rev. John Rogers, who was burned at the stake in 1555, as recounted in Fox's Book of Martyrs. Dr. Castle was also fourth in descent from William Evans, a Colonel in the Revolutionary Army.

Dr. Castle was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and of the Miami Medical College, and followed the general practice of medicine, and surgery, later specializing on eye, ear, nose and throat. He was associated for ten years with Dr. Christian R. Holmes, and was also receiving physician at the old Cincinnati Hospital on Twelfth Street, and was on the staff of the Child's Episcopal Hospital, Mt. Auburn. Dr. Castle had the distinction of operating the first X-Ray apparatus in Cincinnati. He was an active member of the City, County, State and American Medical Associations as well as of the American College of Surgeons. For four years he served as Editor-in-Chief of the Lancet-Clinic, the oldest medical journal published in this part of the country, and relinquished his arduous duties only because of the increasing demands of his office of Medical Director of the Federal Union Life Insurance Company, of which he was one of the incorporators and member of the Board of Directors.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War Dr. Castle enlisted and before the close of the War he had attained the rank of Captain and Assistant Surgeon in the Cavalry at the head of a Base Hospital.

Dr. Castle was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, Member of the National Board of Health, Sons of the Revolution, Loyal Legion, Spanish War Veterans, Delta Psi Fraternity, and Vattier Lodge No. 386, F. & A. M. Dr. Castle was also Vestryman of Grace Episcopal Church.

In 1905 Dr. Castle married Miss Maurice Abell. His death occurred on January 21st, 1918, and he is survived by his wife and son Archibald.

JOHN SANBORN CONNER.

John Sanborn Conner, an honored member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, and its President in 1906, passed from this life Tuesday morning, July 11th, 1911. For years he had suffered ill-health, culminating in the last illness, which confined him closely for the three months preceding his death. Judge Conner was a scholar, patriot, man of affairs, philanthropist, Christian, lawyer of ability, and citizen of the first rank. Besides all these, he was a true gentleman and a genial friend, who drew close to himself the hearts of his associates in this Society, and has left in their memories the fragrant record of kind and gentle deeds. His memoir deserves a notable place both in the records of the Society and on the tablets of our human hearts.

Judge Conner was born in Cincinnati, June 30th, 1844, and thus at his death had entered his 68th year. His boyhood was spent in his native city, in the public schools of which he acquired his early education. His higher education was received in Dartmouth College, from which he graduated in 1865. After a few months spent in North Carolina looking after the family property, which had been overrun by war, he returned to settle in his native city, beginning the study of law in the office of the Solicitor of the City, Gen. E. R. Noyes. He graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1868, beginning at once the practice of his chosen profession as Clerk and Title-Examiner in the Solicitor's office. In April, 1869, he was appointed First Assistant Solicitor of the City, holding that position for four years. In this time there fell upon him the principal part of the legal work connected with the establishment of the Southern Railway, and also with the taking over of Burnet Woods by the City of Cincinnati. After these four years, in 1873, he entered into private practice, and so continued until the fall of 1881, when he was elected one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Hamilton County, taking his seat the following February. After the judicial term of five years he returned to private practice, in which he remained to the time of his death. Associated with him for years have been Messrs. Charles A. J. Walker and Jackson W. Sparrow (the latter a member of the Board of Managers of this Society), with offices in the Johnston Building.

Judge Conner was always the warm advocate of Education, serving from 1876-1881 as member of the Board of Education of North Bend, Ohio, where he had his residence; and in grateful acknowledgement of this service the school of that village now bears his name. At the request of its people he was appointed in 1903 by the Court of Common Pleas as a member of the Board of the Special High School of Miami Township, continuing to serve on this Board to the end of his life. When the Phi Beta Kappa Chapter in Cincinnati University was established, with other graduate members he became a charter member.

He was an honored member of many Fraternal, Social and Patriotic organizations. He was a 32nd Degree Mason, a Knight Templar and a member of the Royal Order of Scotland; President of the New England Society of Cincinnati in 1903; Governor of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Ohio in 1904; and in 1906 President of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution.

Judge Conner's interests and activities extended even beyond the successful practice of his profession; and, particularly in the later years of his life, he was prominently identified with many business enterprises. He was Director of the Central Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Cincinnati, 1899-1902; President of the Power Building Company of Cincinnati, 1903; Director of the Remmers Soap Company of Cincinnati, 1904-1905; and Director of the Cincinnati, Georgetown & Portsmouth R. R. Company, 1903-1905.

He deserves to be, and will be, remembered as a Philanthropist, for he did unselfish service in many important charities of Cincinnati. From 1898 to 1903 he was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Home of the Friendless; Trustee and Treasurer of the Board of Fiscal Trustees of the Widows' Home and Asylum, 1895-1905, and afterwards President; and Trustee and Treasurer of the Old Men's Home, 1895-1905. For many years Judge Conner had been collecting at great expense and with rare taste beautiful pieces and vessels of antique silver. This splendid treasure of art was given in trust to the Cincinnati Art Museum.

It is fitting that this sketch should close with a tribute to John Sanborn Conner, the Christian. He was closely identified with the religious life of Cincinnati; faithful in the service of the Church and honored in its councils. He was vestryman of the Church of Our Savior, 1900-1903; President of the Episcopal Church Club of Cincinnati, 1902-1903; President of the National Conference of Episcopal Church Clubs of the United States, 1903; and Delegate from the Diocese of Southern Ohio to the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, 1904. The funeral services were conducted at the Church of Our Savior in the morning of July 13th, by the Rev. Dudley Ward Rhodes, D. D., a life-long friend. Judge Conner is survived by his widow, and by a daughter, Mrs. John Watt, of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Judge Conner was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, May 14th, 1897, by right of descent from Joseph Conner of Salisbury, Massachusetts, who served in the Revolution from 1777 to 1780, in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Now that his bodily presence is no longer with us, the members of this Society will always hold for him in their hearts, a place of pleasant and inspiring recollection.

HENRY MELVILLE CURTIS.

1849-1915.

Rev. Henry Melville Curtis, D. D., son of the Rev. Eleroy Curtis, D. D., was born in Middletown, Ohio, January 28th, 1849, and died at Columbus, Ohio, September 6th, 1915. He came from Connecticut stock prominent in the Revolutionary War, at least four of his ancestors, namely Felix Curtis, Stephen Curtis, Samuel Coe and Joseph Hull, having served with distinction in the Continental army.

Dr. Curtis received his academic education at Western Reserve College, from which he graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1871. His theological training was received from Auburn Seminary, and in 1873 he was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry.

His first pastorate was at Olean, N. Y., where he continued from 1874 to 1880, when he resigned to accept the pastorate at Belvidere, Ill., and in 1881 again removed to Flint, Michigan. In November, 1890, Dr. Curtis became pastor of the Mt. Auburn Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, where he continued in a most active and useful ministry until compelled by ill health to resign his charge on June 14th, 1911.

From 1885 to 1890 he served as Chaplain of the Third Regiment of the Michigan State Troops with the rank of Captain. In 1892 he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Miami University. In 1894 he was chosen Moderator of the Presbytery of Cincinnati. He also served as vice-president of the Presbyterian Hospital, as Trustee of Lane Theological Seminary, as Commissioner to the General Assembly, and for several years was President of the Western Tract Society. In 1900 he was a delegate from the Presbyterian Church to the Ecumenical Council of Foreign Missions in New York, and about the same time became a member of the staff of University preachers at Yale University.

Dr. Curtis will also be gratefully remembered by the community in which he lived by reason of his activity in civic affairs. In 1899 he was instrumental in settling the street car strike to the general satisfaction of all concerned, and through this and subsequent activities in behalf of the street railway employes, came to be known as the "friend of the street railway men." In 1900 he assisted in organizing the "Citizens' Mortgage Loan Company" as a relief to the needy from the ravages of the loan sharks, and in 1902 he arbitrated the strike of the electric linemen of the city.

Dr. Curtis also served in many official positions in the community, notably as Vice-President of the Associated Charities, President of the Legal Aid Society, President of the Board of Directors of the University of Cincinnati, President of the New England Society, and Chaplain of the Sons of the Revolution. In 1890 he was appointed by the President of the United States as a member of the Board of Visitors of the United States Military Academy, and in June of that year preached the commencement sermon at West Point.

In 1874 he married Eva Cramer Goss, who was parted from him by death in April, 1908. He is survived by two sons, Melville Goss Curtis and Kenneth William Curtis.

Upon his retirement from the ministry, Dr. Curtis purchased a farm near Dublin, Ohio, where he spent the remainder of his life. On September 6th, 1915, he passed away in the hospital at Columbus, and on September 8th his funeral was held in the Broad Street Presbyterian Church of Columbus, with interment in the family burying ground at Auburn, New York.

The affectionate remembrance in which Dr. Curtis will always be held by his friends finds expression in the Memorial prepared by the Session of the Mt. Auburn Presbyterian Church, from which the following extract is taken:

“Dr. Curtis was a man of strong and winning personality. He was possessed of excellent business judgement. He was an eloquent, versatile and forceful preacher of the gospel, a friend of sinners, and a true Ambassador of Christ. His untiring energy, strong courage and great endurance carried him far in his work. His genial disposition and gracious manner won for him a host of friends. His unselfishness, true sympathy and abounding loyalty united his friends to him in true devotion. His deep spiritual nature made him the inspiration of those who waited upon his spiritual ministry. He belongs to that multitude of whom the seer speaks: ‘I heard a voice from Heaven saying, ‘Write-Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.’ Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them.’”

ALEXANDER MILTON DOLPH.

Alexander Milton Dolph was born on Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, on August 7th, 1843. He attended Woodward High School, and at an early age entered upon his successful business career in his native city. On June 5th, 1873, he married Miss Ada Winall of Cincinnati.

Mr. Dolph was the founder of the American Laundry Machinery Co., and prior to his retirement a few years ago, he was identified with many other business enterprises of the Queen City. At one time, Mr. Dolph owned and developed the gas and electric properties of Paris, Kentucky. For two years he was president of the Cincinnati Board of Trade. He was also Vice-President of the Board of Trustees of the Cincinnati Technical School, and was associated with the late M. E. Ingalls, then president of this Board, in merging the Technical School with the University of Cincinnati. Previous to his retirement from active business life, Mr. Dolph was a member of the Queen City Club and also of the Chamber of Commerce. At the time of his death he was a member of the Business Men's Club and the Manufacturer's Club.

Mr. Dolph became a member of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church in the pastorate of Dr. David H. Moore, later Bishop Moore, where he served the congregation faithfully for many years as a member of the Board of Trustees. Upon his removal to Clifton he became a charter member of the Clifton Methodist Episcopal Church, where he was Sunday School Superintendent and a valued member of the Board of Trustees. He was also deeply interested in the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., and was a generous supporter of these organizations as well as of the church and the many other charities of the city. He is remembered by many as a loyal friend and a devoted Christian.

In the Civil War Mr. Dolph was a member of the Home Guards of Cincinnati, and was a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution by virtue of being a great grandson of Moses Dolph, who was a private in the Second Regiment, New York Line, in 1778-9.

Mr. Dolph passed away on November 30th, 1916, and is survived by his widow.

GEORGE DE FORREST DOMINICK.
1857-1912.

George De Forrest Dominick was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on September 27th, 1857, and died at Cincinnati on October 26th, 1912. He was educated in the local schools, finishing at Rev. Mr. Blake's School, Gambier, Ohio. He was a member of an old and honored family of Avondale, and one of much social prominence. His religious affiliation was with the Episcopal Church. His early business career was with his father, William H. Dominick, in the pork business. Since 1879, he was connected with the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., at its Cincinnati Branch.

On April 28th, 1890, he married Mary Taylor, who, with a daughter, Helen Magill Dominick, survive him.

Mr. Dominick was admitted to the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on October 26th, 1898, by right of descent from George F. Dominick, who was born in 1739, on the Isle au Ree, France, and died in New York City on March 30th, 1832. This ancestor was a Captain, 14th Company, Second Regiment of Foot, New York Militia, on November 3, 1775.

GEORGE ANSON DOUGLAS.

George Anson Douglas, a Son of the Revolution, was born at New London, Connecticut, November 5th, 1833, and died in Madisonville, Ohio on April 29th, 1913, at the good age of seventy-nine and a half years. In early life, by the removal of his family, he was transplanted from old Connecticut, to the growing state of Ohio. In 1846, he began his trade in Dayton, as apprentice in the prosperous firm of LaDow and Hamilton, continuing in the business of monument making to the time of his death, when he was the President of The Douglas Granite Company of Winton Place. He passed away after a brief, and apparently slight illness, which advanced age could not withstand. The funeral services both at his home in Madisonville and Mount Vernon, New York, where interment was made, were conducted by the ministers of the respective family churches, with the rites also of the Masonic Fraternity.

Mr. Douglas was a man of sterling character, and of unusual attainment in his profession, being held in high honor by clients and by his comrades in business. Long and faithful service and high ideals gave him a position of eminence. Many works of monumental art in Spring Grove Cemetery are the achievement of his recognized genius. He was a true gentleman, rightly held in honor by friends and associates. Believing in united effort, he served ably and faithfully the local, state and national associations of his fellow-craftsmen, himself organizing the local association. He was also a loyal Mason, and a charter member of the lodge of his own suburb.

George A. Douglas was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, March 1st, 1907. His right of membership is by descent from Captain Richard Douglas, who enlisted as a private from New London, Connecticut, shortly after the Battle of Lexington; re-enlisting again in 1777, in the Connecticut troops, and continuing to the end of the War for Independence. He rose from the ranks by successive promotions to a Captaincy. His regiment served from Peekskill to Yorktown, wintered with the heroes at Valley Forge, and was not mustered out until 1783.

Mr. Douglas was married in 1859, to Miss Adeline Drew, a niece of P. T. Barnum, who preceded him in death. He is survived by two brothers and three sisters; Richard Brown Douglas, Mrs. T. H. Pattee and Mrs. E. D. Reynolds, of Mount Vernon, New York; John Brown Douglas, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. James Mullen of Los Angeles, California. To all of these, the Ohio Society extends its sympathy. We shall bear with us through the years in clear recollection, the genial face and the courtly, gentle bearing of our deceased comrade.

JOSEPH BENSON FORAKER.

Joseph Benson Foraker, Jr., son of former U. S. Senator Hon. Joseph B. Foraker, was born in Norwood, a suburb of Cincinnati, in 1872, and died in New York City on April 24th, 1915. Captain Foraker was of revolutionary descent, tracing his ancestry to John James, an officer of the Connecticut forces in the Continental Army.

After receiving a good education in the public schools, Captain Foraker entered Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, and subsequently attended Cornell University from which he graduated in 1893. He then began the study of the law, graduating from the Cincinnati Law School in 1895. On leaving the law school, he became associated with his father in the active practice of his profession, remaining with him until 1898. In that year President McKinley appointed him Assistant Adjutant-General on the Staff of Major General James F. Wade for service in the Spanish American War. While engaged in military duties in Cuba he contracted yellow fever, but fortunately recovered and continued in the service until the close of the war.

While the elder Foraker was serving his first term as U. S. Senator from Ohio, his son acted as his secretary. In 1901 the Cincinnati Traction Company was organized, and Captain Foraker gave up his duties as secretary to his father to become its vice-president. Subsequently he became a director of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company, and of the United States Lithograph Company.

As the second executive officer of the Cincinnati Traction Company he became an effective force in the management and control of the system. About eighteen months prior to his death, ill health compelled him to resign this position.

In the interests of his health, Captain Foraker made a tour of the Northwest, eventually taking up his residence in Montana, where he made a number of successful mining investments.

Although actively engaged in these and other business affairs Captain Foraker found time to conscientiously and effectively discharge his duties as trustee of the Ohio University at Athens, a position which he held for a number of years. Like his father, he was a member of the Methodist Church. Naturally his military career, although brief, had its influence in keeping alive his patriotic impulses, and the most cherished of his fraternal relations were with the Sons of Veterans, the Loyal Legion, and the Sons of the Revolution. He took an active part in the social life of Cincinnati, and among other social organizations was a member of the Queen City Club, the Business Men's Club and the Hamilton County Golf Club.

About two years prior to his death Captain Foraker married Miss Katherine Pischab, of Chicago, and after traveling extensively in the East and West, he and his wife came to Cincinnati in November, 1914, and made their home here. About three weeks previous to his death, Captain Foraker with his wife went to New York on the advice of his family physician, where for a time the change seemed beneficial to his failing health. On April 24th, however, he died of anaemia in a cottage at 124 Exeter Street, Manhattan Beach.

The deceased was one of the most genial and companionable of men. Like his father he had the faculty of making friends wherever he went, and he was extremely popular in the business and social circles of Cincinnati.

JEPHTHA GARRARD.

1835-1915.

Jeptha Garrard was a descendent of the pioneers who founded Cincinnati, and traced his Revolutionary ancestry to James Chambers, who served six years as an officer in the Continental Army.

His mother was a daughter of Israel Ludlow, who with two others bought the site of Cincinnati from John Cleves Symmes. The other two left before the project was completed, and Ludlow laid out the city. His father was an attorney, and was the son of Governor Garrard of Kentucky, the last of the Colonial governors sent out by the State of Virginia prior to the adoption of a constitution by Kentucky.

After his father's death in 1837, Colonel Garrard's mother remarried, her second husband being Justice McLean of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Colonel Garrard was one of Cincinnati's best known citizens, and was a member of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, the Loyal Legion, and other organizations. He was an attorney, but had not been active in the practice of the law in late years, his attention being almost entirely devoted to the handling of his own property and two trust estates belonging to the Garrard and Ludlow families.

He died suddenly of heart trouble at the age of eighty, in his apartment at the Queen City Club, Cincinnati, on December 16th, 1915.

PETER GIBSON.

1855-1910.

Peter Gibson, the second child and oldest son of William Gibson and Ann McCormick Gibson, was born November 22nd, 1855. He was a descendent on his mother's side of Peter Wickerham, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Gibson was married to Miss Hattie Manning. For a while they lived in Cincinnati, on Seventh Street near Cutter; but a number of years ago moved to New York City, which has since been their home. The marriage was a most happy one; and as he was domestic in his taste, it brought into prominence all that was best in his character and life. He was a student of history and literature, as well as devotee of the violin, for which he often wrote his own scores, and it is said that his collection of instruments includes a genuine Stradivarius of great value. He was also a collector of various sorts of fire arms, and it is said that his widow has recently placed this collection in the Cincinnati Art Museum.

He was a lawyer by profession, though he never practiced to any extent, partially due to his defective hearing. He published several novels and historical plays, of which "West Point," a play, is the best known of his literary productions.

He was known as a wealthy citizen, with real estate holdings scattered in all parts of Cincinnati. These included the Gibson House, which had been built by his grandfather, the first Peter Gibson, founder of one of the oldest and best thought of Cincinnati families. But he came into much local prominence as First Lieutenant Gibson, a member of the Ohio National Guard; and at the outbreak of the Spanish War he recruited a Signal Corps company, which was attached to the First Regiment Ohio Volunteers. Later it was detached from the First and merged with the regular army.

Lieutenant Gibson, the last of the line of Gibsons, died suddenly in Vienna, July 24th, 1910. His body was brought to Cincinnati and laid away in Spring Grove Cemetery, August 9th, 1910.

Peter Gibson was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, by right of descent from Peter Wickerham (1756-1841), of Pennsylvania, a private in Captain Zadoch Wright's Company, Washington County, Pennsylvania, Troops.

JOHN PARKER HANNA.

1862-1918.

John Parker Hanna, son of William Hanna and Margaret Stephenson Hanna, was born in Pittsburgh, Penn., on October 28th, 1862, and died at his home in Cincinnati, Ohio, on April 21st, 1918.

Mr. Hanna was a great-great-grandson of Captain James Stephenson, Paymaster of the Thirteenth Virginia Regiment in 1777. Captain Stephenson was a personal friend of George Washington who was a frequent visitor in the Stephenson home. Mr. Hanna was also a great-great-nephew of William Crawford, the famous Indian fighter, who was finally captured by the Indians and burned at the stake.

In 1885 Mr. Hanna married Miss Eva Bishop, who survives him.

In 1867 Mr. Hanna's parents removed to Cincinnati, where the elder Hanna established a lumber business. John Parker Hanna succeeded his father in this business, but for the past five years devoted himself to the affairs of the Hanna Locomotive Stoker Co. of which he was Vice-President.

Mr. Hanna was a member of the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and was also identified with various other civic organizations.

EDWARD HOLLISTER HARGRAVE.

1859-1912.

Edward Hollister Hargrave was born in Cincinnati, July 28th, 1859, being at the time of his death, August 15th, 1912, only in his fifty-fourth year. He died at his home in Floral Avenue, Norwood, where he had resided for the past ten years. For some time he had been in failing health, so that the end, which came so early in life, was not altogether unexpected.

Mr. Hargrave had risen by ability and industry to a position of prominence in Cincinnati manufacturing circles, being at the time of his death at the head of The Cincinnati Tool Company. He held membership in the Commercial Association, the Business Men's Club, the Manufacturers' Club, and other business and civic organizations.

He was admitted to this Society April 13th, 1894, by right of descent from Captain Joshua Huddy, of New Jersey, who commanded a company in the New Jersey Artillery; was captured in an attack on Block House at Tom's River, March 24th, 1782, and was hanged at Middletown Heights by the British on April 12th, 1782, in retaliation for the death of Philip White, a British tory.

Mr. Hargrave was a member of the New Jerusalem Swedenborgian Church. The funeral services were conducted at his residence in Norwood by his pastor, the Rev. Louis G. Hoeck. His widow, a daughter and two sons are left to mourn their loss.

GEORGE BURT HAWLEY.

George Burt Hawley, the only son of Lucian and Irene Leach Hawley, was born in Buffalo, N. Y., on April 25th, 1849. He was married to Julia L. Greiner, daughter of John and Mary R. Greiner, on October 15th, 1872, at Buffalo, N. Y., and he died in Cincinnati, Ohio, on July 24th, 1917, survived by Mrs. Hawley, their only child having died in infancy.

In 1873 Mr. Hawley removed from Buffalo to Cleveland where he engaged in the lumber business until 1879, when his entire stock was swept away by a flood. Shortly after this he came to Cincinnati. Here he first engaged in the lumber business and then in the plumbing and heating supply business, as a member of the firm of Clark and Hawley, to which firm he individually succeeded. In the year 1900 he formed with the Crane Company of Chicago, the Crane-Hawley Company, of which he was at the head at the time of his death.

Mr. Hawley was a member of the Commercial Club, the Queen City Club, the Country Club, the Cincinnati Golf Club and the Blaine Club. In 1897 he became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Amos Hawley of Farmington, Conn., who was a private in Captain Bidwell's Company, Fifteenth Regiment Connecticut Troops, in the Continental Army, and was present at Washington's retreat from Long Island, August 22nd, 1776; wintered at Peekskill, 1776-7; participated in the Battle of Saratoga, and was present at the surrender of Burgoyne, October 17th, 1777.

Nothing can be added to Mr. Hawley's reputation as a business man; his long successful and honorable career in this community speaks louder than words. Though of unusual ability, honesty was his leading trait. Probably no man in Cincinnati had more devoted friends, and this he owed not to chance but to his own genius for friendship. Selfishness was left out of his make up, and his thoughts seemed to turn continually to what he could do for those about him. His keen sense of humor made him a delightful companion. He had a real man's love of sport and outdoor life. A good shot, a good fisherman and a lover of horses and dogs, his gun was his prized possession, and his dog his friend. To those who had the privilege of knowing him, he will be of ever blessed memory.

JOHN A. HEIZER.

John A. Heizer died Sunday evening, November 5th, 1911, at his residence, 2016 Hudson Avenue, Norwood, Ohio. Pneumonia was the cause of his early and lamented demise. At the time of his death, Mr. Heizer was principal of the Guilford School, Cincinnati, having served as principal of this and of the Hoffman School for the past eleven years.

He was born near Felicity, Clermont County, Ohio, May 7, 1864 and thus had reached the age of 47 at his death. Early in his life at the age of 19, he began teaching, and continued through his remaining years in the successful prosecution of this, his chosen and beloved profession. He was able to maintain his work until within two months of his decease. Superintendent Dyer of the Cincinnati Schools said of him: "He was greatly beloved by all the school children, energetic and enthusiastic, decidedly progressive, and was greatly admired in his discipline. He was quick to seize upon anything, which would add to the comfort of the school children, and to the general betterment of the school conditions."

Mr. Heizer was intelligent, mentally quick, always genial, and thoroughly genuine. He was true, and he loved all that is true. His was a complete and happy home. The widow, Mrs. Lillian Orr Heizer, three daughters, Mary, Romaine, and Edith, and one son, John Z., survive to mourn their great loss. The funeral services were held in the Crematory Chapel the afternoon of November 7, 1911.

Besides having membership in the Sons of the Revolution, Mr. Heizer was prominent in other societies and orders, being a Scottish Rite Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias. In educational matters he was also active and prominent, serving as president of the Board of School Examiners of Norwood, and being an active member of the National Educational Association.

He was third in descent from Oakey Van Osdel, who died in Clermont County, in 1851, and who served as a private in the New Jersey troops under Captain James Debew and William Wikoff through 1776, and parts of 1777 and 1778. Mr. Heizer was admitted to the Ohio Society of the Sons of Revolution, February 4, 1910.

PEARSON HEATHCOTE HILLS.

1889-1919.

Pearson Heathcote Hills, son of the Rev. George Heathcote Hills and Carrie L. Pearson, his wife, was born at Riverton, New Jersey, on October 5th, 1889. He was educated in the Public Schools of Indianapolis, and received his collegiate training at the University of Wisconsin. Upon leaving College he engaged in business in Detroit where he continued until March 1st, 1917, when he enlisted in the United States Naval Reserves.

While in the Naval Service he was attached to the U. S. Battleship "Utah," subsequently served for seven months on a mine sweeper in the North sea, and later was assigned to duty on the U. S. Hospital Ship "Mercy". While still in the service, he contracted a fatal illness, and died at the Norfolk Naval Hospital on January 11th, 1919.

On May 17th, 1918, Mr. Hills became a member of the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Captain John Wright of New Haven, Conn., who was a private in the Lexington Alarm, Captain Ball's Company, April 20th, 1775; Lieutenant in Captain Isaac Coltan's Company, Colonel Brewer's Regiment, August 1st, 1775; Captain in Colonel Brewer's Regiment, October, 1775; Captain Fourth Regiment Massachusetts Militia, March 20th, 1779; and Captain in Colonel Shepard's Regiment, January 1st, 1777.

Pearson Heathcote Hills lived up to the noblest traditions of his Revolutionary ancestry, and the golden star which commemorates his name on the service flag of the Sons of the Revolution will be ever cherished as an emblem of an unselfish life laid down in the interests of freedom and humanity. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

THOMAS HOLLISTER.

Thomas Hollister was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on November 16th, 1858, and died in Cincinnati, on March 9th, 1913. He was educated there in the public schools, graduating at Woodward High School. Like others of his family, he was a "Yale" man. Upon graduation, he studied law at the Cincinnati Law School; was admitted to the Bar and was associated with his brothers in the practice of his profession. As a member of an old and well known family, he had many close friends and acquaintances. Besides, he had a genial disposition, was courteous and affable in manner, and was generally very popular. He was unmarried and made his home at the family residence on Mt. Auburn. He is survived by two brothers, Judge Howard C. Hollister and Mr. Burton P. Hollister, and two sisters.

Mr. Hollister was admitted to the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on April 5th, 1912, by right of descent from Elijah Strong Hollister, who first entered the service on July 1st, 1780, as a private under Captain Stoddard, at Lennox, Mass., and was attached to the regiment of Colonel Joseph Vose. In the Winter of 1781, he enlisted for three years as a Sergeant in Colonel Marinus Willett's New York Regiment, and was discharged, in the Winter of 1784, at Schenectady.

FRANK HUNTSMAN.

1857-1917.

Frank Huntsman was born on November 8th, 1857, at Wyoming, Hamilton County, Ohio, on the farm which had been the home of his father and grandfather.

His first business venture was in Masonic Insurance, in which he made many friends among the old residents of Cincinnati. Subsequently he engaged in the florist business, and for many years was established in the old College building on Walnut Street.

For the last ten years of his life, Mr. Huntsman's failing health prevented his taking any active part in commercial pursuits.

For a number of years Mr. Huntsman was a member of the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Jonathan Huntsman of Pennsylvania, who was a private in the Revolution.

On September 14, 1917, Mr. Huntsman passed away at his home at Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

ETHAN OSBORN HURD.

1840-1913.

Captain Ethan Osborn Hurd was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, July 31st, 1840, and died at Jacksonville, Florida, March 24th, 1913.

Captain Hurd was a member of the Ohio Commandery, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, and rendered conspicuous military service in the Civil War. He entered the service in July, 1861, as First Lieutenant, Thirty-ninth O. V. I., and was commissioned Captain in July, 1862. He served with the Thirty-ninth O. V. I. in all its campaigns until a few months before resigning, when he was detailed as Ordnance Officer on the Staff of General John W. Fuller. Captain Hurd served under Generals Fremont, Sturgis, Halleck, Sherman, Pope, Rosecrans, Grant, Tyler, Stanley, Veatch, Webster, Dodge and Fuller. He participated in engagements and battles of New Madrid, Island No. 10, Pope's advance down the Mississippi, Siege of Corinth, Parker's Cross Roads, Colliersville, and others.

Captain Hurd became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution in 1894, by right of descent from Nathan Hurd, of Woodbury, Connecticut, who was Captain, Eighth Co., First Battalion, Wadsworth Brigade, Connecticut Militia. He was also descended from Ethan Osborn of Litchfield, Connecticut, who was a private in Captain Beebe's Company, Bradley's Regiment, Connecticut Militia; and from John Osborn who was Lieutenant in Captain Wilcox's Company, Baldwin's Regiment, of Massachusetts.

HERBERT JENNEY.

Herbert Jenney passed from life into death on April 27th, 1914. The passing came suddenly, while he was sitting at his office desk; a feeling of illness was followed by death so quickly, that medical aid could not be summoned. The funeral services were conducted at the home in Vernon Place, by the Rev. Dr. George A. Thayer, his neighbor and the friend of many years. The body was interred in the Spring Grove family lot, which he himself had visited on Sunday, the day before his death.

Herbert Jenney was born at Fairhaven, Massachusetts, in 1839, being the son of William LeBarron Jenney. After spending the first fifteen years of his life in his native state, he continued and completed his studies in Paris. Recalled to this country by the death of his father in 1864, he began the practice of law in Cincinnati. In 1866 he entered into partnership with Aaron F. Perry. In later years, he established a partnership with his son-in-law, Starbuck Smith, remaining an active member of the firm, notwithstanding his advancing years. His death terminated a conspicuous career in his profession. By ability and by steadfastness of life and purpose, he won a large clientele and the honor of his fellowmen. He is survived by his widow; a son, Robert R. Jenney, and a daughter, Mrs. Starbuck Smith, to whose little son he was ardently attached. Mrs. Jenney was the daughter of Aaron F. Perry, Mr. Jenney's early partner in the practice of law.

Mr. Jenney was of distinguished New England descent, and at the time of his death was President of the Mayflower Society of Ohio. He had membership also in the Society of Colonial Wars. He was also a highly esteemed member of the Cincinnati Bar Association.

In 1895, Mr. Jenney became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution; being third in descent from Levi Jenney, who was Sergeant in Captain Manasseh Kempton's Company, Colonel Carpenter's Regiment for service in Rhode Island on the Alarm; third in descent from Samuel Procter, an Ensign in the Twelfth Continental Infantry, and afterwards a private in Captain Henry Jenney's Company in Rhode Island on an Alarm, August, 1780.

Mr. Jenney was Historian of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution in 1897 and 1898, and President in 1905. He was loyal in both service and attendance. His genial manner and noble heart brought him the honor and affection of his fellow members, whose hearts are saddened by his sudden removal.

JOHN HART MACREADY.

1868-1912.

John Hart Macready, M. D., was born at Monroe, Ohio, January 5th, 1868. He graduated from the Ohio Medical College of Cincinnati. After graduation he was interne in the City Hospital, and then practiced his chosen profession in this city until the time of his death. He died May 5th, 1912, at his residence, 2636 West Sixth Avenue, Cincinnati, in the forty-fifth year of his age. He was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, December 5th, 1902.

Dr. Macready claimed membership in the Society through James Hart, a native of County Tyrone, Ireland, who was a resident in Virginia at the time the War for American Independence began, and enlisted in the Army in Virginia; serving under Washington, and taking part in the siege and capitulation of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

He was in the Communion of the Methodist Episcopal Church. His obsequies were held in the home. He is survived by a widow, who mourns his early death.

ELBERT PIKE MARSHALL.

1845-1916.

Elbert Pike Marshall, son of Dr. John G. and Eliza Marshall, was born near Hamilton, Ohio, on June 15th, 1845. He was third in descent from Thomas Alston, who served as Ensign in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Marshall received his early education in the public schools of Hamilton, and was graduated from Farmer's College with the B. A. degree in June, 1863.

During the Civil War he served in the navy for two years, taking part in several engagements during an expedition of the Mississippi squadron up the Red River, and after an honorable discharge at the close of the war, returned to civil pursuits.

His life work was associated with the Union Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati. In May, 1869, he was elected Assistant Secretary and in 1881 became Secretary of the Company. In 1887 he assumed the duties of Actuary, and served as Secretary and Actuary until his election to the position of Vice-President in 1906. He was a member of the Executive Committee for many years, and served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Company for thirty-four years.

Mr. Marshall was an indefatigable worker, and besides his forty-seven years of service in the Union Central, took an active part in various movements for the general good. He was an active member of the Methodist Church, the Chamber of Commerce, the Business Men's Club, and was President of the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution at the time of his death. He was a charter member of the Actuarial Society of America, and a valued member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He also served as a member of the Lake Mohonk Peace Conference, and was vitally interested in the efforts to secure international peace.

Mr. Marshall died on Friday, June 2nd, 1916, at Jersey City while on a visit to his daughter. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Robert A. Alberts of Jersey City, and Mrs. Rutherford H. Cox of Cincinnati, and a son, John E. Marshall, State Manager of the Union Central Life Insurance Company for Rhode Island.

DAVID BRENNEMAN MARTIN.

David Brenneman Martin, son of David Martin and Mary Brenneman, his wife, was born at Mt. Joy, Pennsylvania, and died at Baltimore, Maryland, on October 12, 1909. The family originally came from Switzerland, and settled in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, from which they subsequently moved to Medway, Ohio.

David B. Martin entered the railroad service in October, 1867, with the "Bee Line", and was employed by this road and its successor, the "Big Four", continuously until April, 1897, serving in various capacities from Cashier in the office at Dayton, Ohio, to General Passenger Agent. On April 15, 1897, Mr. Martin became Manager of the Passenger Traffic Department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, with offices in Baltimore, Maryland.

Mr. Martin served throughout the Civil War, and at his death was a member of the G. A. R. and the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and was also a thirty-second degree Mason. He became a member of the Ohio Society Sons of the Revolution in 1894 by right of descent from David Martin of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, who served in the Revolution as a member of Colonel Klotz's Flying Camp Battalion, and fought at the battle of Brandywine.

LOUIS HENRY MARTIN.

Louis Henry Martin was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, on March 24, 1868, and died in Cincinnati, Ohio, on April 26, 1913. He was the son of Henry Clay Martin and Hannah K. Martin, who survive him. His early education was obtained in the local schools and Butler College, Indianapolis; later, he took a special course at Harvard University.

He was associated in business with his father, in the "Rough Notes Company," Indianapolis, and was President of the Company at the time of his death. For nearly fifteen years, he was connected with the Globe-Wernicke Company, of Cincinnati, first as Sales-Manager and then Advertising Manager. The "Grand Rapids Furniture Record" paid tribute to him by saying, "Mr. Martin was the dean of all advertising managers in lines affecting the furniture industry." The "Office Appliances" said, "His was a fine and delightful character, loving, cheerful and helpful in his home, and straightforward, capable and sincere in every relation of life."

On February 11th, 1902, Mr. Martin married Miss Georgine Brown, of Cincinnati, whose New England ancestors also fought in the Revolution. His widow and two children, Louis Henry, 2nd, and Eleanor, survive him. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Indianapolis. He was, also, a member of several social organizations; among them, the University Club of Indianapolis, and the Business Men's Club of Cincinnati. The funeral services were conducted at his home on April 29th, by Rev. Frederick Taylor, D. D., of Indianapolis, and the Rev. Charles F. Goss, D. D. of Cincinnati. The burial was at Spring Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Martin was admitted to the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on November 6th, 1908, by right of descent from Ichabod Marshall, who served first as a corporal and later, as a Sergeant in Captain Zebediah Dewey's Company, Fifteenth Regiment of Vermont Militia, which was commanded by Colonel Gideon Warren. Ichabod Marshall served in the first alarm of Castleton on June 10th, and the second alarm on October 21, 1781. In the last service, he held the rank of Sergeant.

OSCAR THADDEUS MARTIN.

Oscar Thaddeus Martin was born at Mt. Joy, Pennsylvania, on January 27th, 1847, and died from a complication of diseases at Springfield, Ohio, on May 2nd, 1913.

The family originally came from Switzerland, and settled in Mt. Joy, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. His father was David Martin, and his mother's maiden name was Mary Brenneman. When he was six years old, they moved to Medway, Ohio, where his father engaged in farming. Later, they moved to Osborn. When the Civil War broke out, he ran away to enlist, but was sent home on account of his youth. He attended the local school, and afterwards taught at Helmar School, near Osborn. He graduated at Wittenberg College in 1868. After he left college, he was for a time editor of the Springfield Daily Advertiser. He studied law in the office of General Warren Keifer for a time, and was admitted to the Bar in 1870. For a year, he was associated in partnership with Walter L. Weaver, and, although the partnership was then dissolved, they continued to occupy the same suite of offices for about ten years. He was not only a prominent and active practitioner at the bar, but a successful business man, respected for his straightforward manliness and business integrity. He professionally represented large corporations, and was a director and president of the First National Bank of Springfield, and president of the Springfield Railway Company. He was, at one time, president of the Bar Association, and an active promoter of the Clark County Historical Association, having written the first history of Clark County about twenty-five years ago. He was also a member of the Commercial, the Lagonda, and the Country Clubs. In politics, he was a Republican and, while he heartily espoused the cause of his party, he never held office. His religious affiliations were with the Second Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member. He was a good citizen, true to his friends, affectionate to his family, a model lawyer, just and courteous to all, and a man of stainless life.

In 1874, he married Mary McCoy, daughter of Abraham Smith McCoy. Five children were born to them, one of whom, Oscar, died in infancy. All of his living children: Paul C., Dr. Harrie B., and Jane C. Martin, and Mrs. Roy McGregor reside in Springfield. There are also five grandchildren. He left a sister Mrs. Miami Donaven, of Mt. Joy, Pa. His brother, David B. Martin, died three years ago.

Mr. Martin became a member of the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on July 24th, 1894, and held the following offices in the Society: Fourth Vice-President in 1897; Third Vice-President in 1898; Second Vice-President in 1899; First Vice-President in 1900; and President in 1901. He was also a member of the Board of Managers in 1902-3.

Mr. Oscar T. Martin entered the Society by right of descent from David Martin, of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, who served in the Revolution as a member of Colonel Klotz's "Flying Camp," and fought at the battle of Brandywine.

JAMES BROWN MATSON.

1855-1913.

James Brown Matson was born in Cleves, Ohio, on August 22nd, 1855, and died at Saylor Park, Ohio, on March 10th, 1913. He was educated at the local school of his native place; Hughes High School; and the Cincinnati Law School. Upon graduation, he was admitted to the Bar and entered upon the practice of his profession. Later, he was elected a Justice of the Peace, in which office he served with dignity and honor for a quarter of a century. Squire Matson was a Democrat in politics, loyal to his party, and held a number of important offices. He was also a past master of Monitor Lodge, F. & A. M. His residence was at Home City, in the Lower River Road—the name of which place (chiefly through his efforts) was changed to "Saylor Park," in recognition of the early settlement there by the Saylor family. In 1880, he married Miss Minnie McQueety, who, with their two sons, Arthur and Ralph, and their two daughters, Helen and Marie, survive him.

He became a member of the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on February 14th, 1896, by right of descent from John Matson, First Lieutenant and Captain in First Regiment, Pennsylvania Line (1777-1778).

EDWARD SIDNEY McKEE.

1858-1916.

Edward Sidney McKee was born January 6th, 1858, on his father's farm, four miles from Hamilton, Ohio. He was of Scotch-Irish parentage, his ancestors having come to this country shortly before the Revolutionary war. Three of his great grand-fathers were in the campaign of King's Mountain, Tennessee, a manoeuvre that kept a large part of the British army from going to the assistance of Cornwallis.

Dr. McKee received his education at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, and studied medicine at the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati. On the completion of his course there in 1880, he went abroad and spent a year and a half as interne in hospitals in London and Vienna.

Dr. McKee was married November 16th, 1882, to Miss Anna Louise McClintoc of Collinsville, Ohio. In the Fall of the same year he began the practice of medicine in Cincinnati, where he continued until his health broke down, about four years ago. On giving up his practice Dr. McKee traveled extensively, going around the world in 1913-14, and during his travels corresponded with a number of medical magazines.

On August 1st, 1916, he went South, and on October 20th died at Quito, Equador. His body was brought home for interment, and buried beside that of his father in Greenwood Cemetery at Hamilton, Ohio, November 18th, 1916.

ROBERT DOUGLAS MEACHAM.

1883-1917.

Robert Douglas Meacham was born in Ashland, Kentucky, on September 15th, 1883. He attended the public schools in Cincinnati, and for a time was in the Cincinnati Technical School. Subsequently he attended school at Asheville, North Carolina, and later spent one year in Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., and one year in the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University. While at Yale he was a member of the Berzelius Society and the Sigma Phi Fraternity.

In 1906 he entered the employment of Rogers, Brown and Co. of Cincinnati, and continued with them in various capacities until March, 1917, at which time he was Traffic Manager. Even before his country entered the war, he had felt the call to service "over there," and voluntarily left his position to join the American Ambulance Corps in France, defraying his own expenses.

After serving eight months in France, he returned to this country about November 1st, 1917. About December 1st he was offered a commission as First Lieutenant in the U. S. Signal Corps, and passed his examinations in Washington on December 7th. While on his way home he stopped in Louisville to visit friends, where he suffered an acute attack of appendicitis, from which he died on December 14th, 1917.

Mr. Meacham became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution on March 2nd, 1917, by right of descent from Abraham Meacham of Massachusetts. He was also descended from Daniel Billings of Connecticut, who enlisted as an ensign in the Revolution and was promoted to a lieutenantcy; and from Charles Eldridge of Connecticut, Ensign No. 8, Regular Connecticut Militia.

GEORGE MERRELL.

1846-1914.

George Merrell was born in Cincinnati, February 19th, 1846, being the son of Dr. William Stanley Merrell, who came to Cincinnati from New York State shortly after 1825. The family name was Murl, a Huguenot family of high prestige, which was forced to flee to England after the night of St. Bartholomew, and then emigrated to New England in 1632. In the struggles of the Colonies against the Indians and for independence, the Merrells took conspicuous part.

The elder Merrell developed from small beginnings to the great business of the William S. Merrell Chemical Company, in which his son George became a full partner with him at the early age of twenty-one. George Merrell from the beginning displayed power of initiative, knowledge of human nature and fine judgment, which brought him success in his business and high standing in the pharmaceutical organizations of the country.

He was prepared for Harvard College through the public schools and Woodward High School, but as the Civil War was beginning and the family had already given two brothers to the army, he was required to enter into the Chemical Company with his father. Although deprived thus of college training, he was never lacking in love of letters, devotion to high ideals, and all the fine qualities of mind and heart, that highest education which the college is supposed to quicken and nourish.

His religious life deserves special mention. He was a loyal member of the Church of the New Jerusalem in Cincinnati, and was at one time President of the Swedenborgian Society. He served as Chairman of the Building Committee, which planned and erected the beautiful Church building on Oak and Winslow Streets. In the recent convention of his denomination held in Cincinnati, he served prominently on the Reception Committee, and in the councils of the body.

Mr. Merrell was faithful in public life, and in all manly relations. He once served as a member of the Sinking Fund Board of Trustees of this City. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, a charter member of the Society of the Colonial Wars, and a member of many local clubs. He was an exceedingly attractive and companionable man; always gentle, sympathetic and generous, but also always strong and honorable. His virtues and graces were recognized by all who knew him; we preserve their record on this page of our Minutes, but they are also recorded in our affectionate and grateful memories.

Mr. Merrell died at his home in the Navarre Building, Gilbert Avenue, Cincinnati, on Saturday, December 12th, 1914. The funeral services on the following Tuesday, in the Church of the New Jerusalem, were attended by a large gathering of sorrowing friends, many of whom were prominent citizens. His body rests in beautiful Spring Grove Cemetery, until The Day dawns. The members of his immediate family, who survive him, are the widow and three sons; Judge Stanley W. Merrell, of the Superior Court, Charles G. Merrell and Thurston Merrell, who are connected with their father's and their grandfather's business establishment.

Mr. Merrell was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, in 1894, by right of descent from Joseph Poor, a Lieutenant in Captain Gideon Foster's Company, Eighth Essex County Regiment Volunteer Infantry of Massachusetts. Mr. Merrell was a member of the Board of Managers from 1894 to 1896.

GRIFFIN TAYLOR MILLER.

1843-1914.

Griffin Taylor Miller, eldest son of Emanuel Johnston and Sarah Kilgour Miller, was born at the residence of his grand-father, Griffin Taylor, at the North East Corner of Third and Vine Streets, Cincinnati, on Monday, April 3rd, 1843. He attended private schools until sent to a preparatory school at Gambier at the age of nine, where he remained several years.

In June 1856, the family moved to Clifton, and it was from there that Mr. Miller enlisted in the Federal Navy shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War. His father and grandfather were at that time enlisted in the Home Guard. During one of the engagements on the Mississippi River, he was badly wounded, and when able to be moved from the hospital at Memphis, was sent home on furlough. After the close of hostilities he was honorably discharged and engaged in stock farming in Champaign County, Illinois.

His grandfather, Mr. Taylor, having died in 1866, the care of the estate devolved upon his father, who requested him to dispose of the Illinois lands and to return to Cincinnati to assist in managing the property, which later became his principal occupation after the death of Mr. E. J. Miller, in 1884.

Mr. Miller was unmarried and lived with his brother and three sisters. He was fond of society and a charter member of the Queen City Club, serving many times as Governor and member of House Committees. Until a few years before his death, he was vestryman of Calvary Episcopal Church, and a regular attendant at divine service.

Mr. Miller was a man of modest and retiring disposition, generous and kindly to a marked degree, a bounteous dispenser of charitable gifts, a staunch friend. Like his father, he was an enthusiastic sportsman and a lover of horses and other domestic animals.

On February 18th, of this year, Mr. Miller visited his office for the last time. He was confined to the house after that date and died on the evening of April 3rd, 1914, on his seventy-first birthday.

Mr. Miller became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution in 1895. He was fourth in descent from Edward Thomas, who entered the Army as First Lieutenant in the Burlington, New Jersey, First Regiment, and won rapid promotion, until he became Colonel of the First Regiment of Essex County, New Jersey.

JOSEPH CHEEVER NOYES.

Joseph Cheever Noyes answered a sudden summons from earth to immortality on December 22nd, 1912, in the sixty-fourth year of his age. In his sudden death, an honorable and useful life was brought to a lamented close.

Mr. Noyes was a son of missionary parents and a native of India, having been born in Ceylon, October 28th, 1849. His was a noble heritage of which by fidelity and industry, he proved himself worthy. At an early age he was brought by his mother to this country, and being of New England descent, was left there for his education. Here is one of the ordinary incidents of modern missionary heroism; parents putting oceans and continents between themselves and their children in the sacrificial service of a great love. Surely of these the world is not worthy.

At the age of fifteen, Mr. Noyes entered Williston Academy; but having talent and disposition for industrial and business life, he found opportunity to enter into that field, after two years of school life. He procured a position in the office of The Ohio Tool Company, at Columbus, Ohio, where he proved his competence and energy. About 1871, a larger way opened before him, and he came to enter the large manufacturing firm, now known as The Fay and Egan Company. Here he labored with efficiency, integrity and ability, making for himself an honored place in his business and community life.

He was characterized by gentleness and quiet reserve, but also by determination; he was keen and successful in his business life, but never severed from absolute integrity. With no other capital than honor, pluck, native ability and loyalty to God and fellowmen, he rose from the simple beginnings of the working boy's life, to a place of honor, influence and esteem.

Mr. Noyes' most characteristic element was his religious life. He was a child of missionary fever; his sister is now a missionary in India; and a brother, the Rev. Dr. Charles Noyes, is a minister of the Gospel in Boston. Mr. Noyes was loyal to and worthy of this heritage of faith. He was one of the founders of, and a charter member of, the Walnut Hills Congregational Church, a member of its Board of Trustees, and at some time had held every office in the gift of the Church. He was a faithful and generous member of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. of Cincinnati, and had been for years, a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; of his means he gave widely and without stint; liberally, but so quietly, that not even his nearest relatives, not his intimate friends, realized the wideness of his gifts. He was a good man, and having served his generation, by the will of God, he fell asleep.

He held membership in the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Lieutenant Joseph Noyes, who was born in Newburyport, Massachusetts, in 1736, and died there on January 5, 1826. Lieutenant Noyes was a private in Lexington Alarm from Newburyport, Massachusetts; a corporal in Captain William Rogers' Company, 1775; Sergeant in Captain Ezra Badlam's Company, Twenty-Sixth Regiment in 1776; Lieutenant in Colonel Wesson's Regiment, 1777 to 1779.

Mr. Noyes was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, on May 8, 1896; and was a member of the Board of Managers in 1904.

The funeral services were conducted from his residence in Upland Place, Walnut Hills, by his pastor, Rev. Dr. D. M. Pratt, on Thursday, December 26th, 1912; the remains were taken for interment to Plainfield, Connecticut.

STEPHEN JOHNSTON PATTERSON.

1842-1915.

Stephen Johnston Patterson, son of Jefferson Patterson and Juliana Johnston Patterson, was born at Rubicon Farm, Dayton, Ohio, on December 20th, 1842. He was second in descent from Robert Patterson, who served under George Rogers Clark and Daniel Boone.

On June 12th, 1879, he married Lucy Angus Dunn, and is survived by his widow and three children, Robert Dunn Patterson, Mrs. Julia Johnston Moorhead, and Mrs. Anne Bove Woodhull.

Stephen Johnston Patterson entered Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, but left at the beginning of the Civil War to enlist in Company A, Eighty-Sixth Ohio Infantry.

In 1868 he founded a retail coal business in Dayton, Ohio. Later he became associated with his brothers, and formed the Southern Ohio Coal and Iron Company, one of the pioneer operators in the Wellston, Ohio, coal fields. He operated coal yards in Dayton, Columbus and Cincinnati, and was the founder of the Western Coal Dealers Association.

In 1902 he became interested in the Pocahontas coal fields of West Virginia, and at his death was president of the Weyanoke Coal and Coke Co., the S. J. Patterson Pocahontas Co., and the White Star Mining Co., all in the West Virginia field. In 1907 he sold out his retail interests and in 1910 sold the Gulf Coal Co. which he was operating in West Virginia.

He was a large owner of real estate in Dayton and its suburbs, and two years before his death started a very large peach and apple orchard in Jackson County, Ohio. He took an active part in the management of his business to the last, and was in his office all day prior to the day of his death.

He was a member of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, the G. A. R. Society, the Blue Lodge Shrine, Scottish Rite, Dayton City Club, Dayton Country Club, and other organizations. It has been said of him that he was careful in all his transactions, and that his promises were always kept.

He died at his home in Dayton on October 22nd, 1915.

ACHILLES HENRY PUGH.

1846-1912.

Achilles Henry Pugh, one of the founders of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, and at one time its President, died at his home in Cincinnati, on December 24th, 1912, in the sixty-seventh year of his life, just as the heart of the world was turning toward its most joyous anniversary.

He was born in Cincinnati, November 24th, 1846. When he was nine years of age his father moved to Waynesville, Ohio, returning after some years to Cincinnati. At the beginning of the Civil War, young Pugh enlisted for service; but, being under age, was prevented from active service by the objections of his mother; he was at the time only fifteen years old. He then attended the High School in Cincinnati; and in 1865, entered the City Engineer's office, remaining in it for two years. During this time, he assisted in the survey of the road to Dayton, which is now the C. H. & D. branch of the B. & O. Railway. In 1867 he went West, working in surveys on the Union Pacific, and other roads entering Kansas City. In 1875 he was married to Miss Mary Darr, after which he returned to Cincinnati, entering into the printing firm, which his father, Achilles Pugh, had founded, and which is directed by his son and successor, Achilles Henry Pugh, Jr. Mr. Pugh is survived by his son, who is a member of the Ohio Society, by his widow, and by two daughters, Mrs. Percy Byran and Mrs. Macey.

Mr. Pugh was a successful man of affairs, and prominent in the life of the City. He had traveled widely; had read extensively, and kept himself informed and in sympathy with the currents of modern life. He was a genial and interesting companion; it was pleasant to know him and to have fellowship with him. The interests of the Ohio Society were always near to his heart; his counsels and his voice were often in demand in its anniversary meetings. He was also a member of the Society of the Colonial Wars in the State of Ohio; and was a Shriner.

Mr. Pugh claimed membership in this Society through John Pugh, being third in descent. John Pugh was born in Chester County, Pennsylvania, August 2nd, 1747; was a citizen of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and died in Harrison County, Ohio, April 15th, 1840. He served in the Pennsylvania Militia, for which he was disowned by the Nottingham Meeting, Society of Friends, October 14th, 1775; he was Captain in a Pennsylvania Regiment of Infantry, March 18th, 1777; private in Colonel Evan's Second Battalion of Chester County Militia in 1780, serving to the close of the War for Independence.

Mr. Pugh was one of the founders of the Ohio Society in 1893, having previously been a member of the Pennsylvania Society. He served as Secretary 1893-1896; and as President in 1897. He was often delegate to the Meetings of the General Society.

The Board of Managers hereby makes grateful record of his valuable service, of his patriotic interest in the ideals of our Country, and of our esteem for his noble qualities of manhood.

DOUGLAS PUTNAM.

1838-1918.

Colonel Douglas Putnam was born at Marietta, Ohio, on August 21, 1838. He became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution in 1894 by right of descent from General Israel Putnam of Salem, Massachusetts, who was Lieutenant-Colonel in the Lexington Alarm, April, 1775, and subsequently became Colonel and Major-General in the Continental Army.

Colonel Putnam was educated at Marietta College, and in 1869 moved to Ashland, Kentucky, where he became identified with various manufacturing interests. For many years he was President of the Ashland Iron and Mining Co., and of the Ashland Coal and Iron Railway. He also served as a member of the Ashland City Council, and of the Ashland School Board, and was active in promoting the study of history in the schools.

In 1864 Colonel Putnam was married to Miss Valonia Reppert, who died in 1900, leaving two sons, L. R. Putnam and Gay Putnam, now prominent business men of Ashland. In 1904 Colonel Putnam married his second wife, Mrs. Winchester Knowles of Marietta, Ohio, who survives him.

Colonel Putnam was Lieutenant-Colonel in the Civil War on the Union side, and was wounded at the battle of Missionary Ridge. He was an active member of the Loyal Legion which is composed of officers of the Civil War. In his religious affiliations he was an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Ashland, of which he was a staunch supporter for nearly fifty years.

It is said of Colonel Putnam that he was a man of most engaging personality and a citizen of the most scrupulous integrity. No selfish ambition ever swerved him from the path of duty, and he enjoyed the full confidence of all his business associates.

Colonel Putnam passed away at his home in Ashland, in August, 1918, at the age of 80, sincerely mourned by his family and friends.

JOHN LANE REED.

1850-1914.

John Lane Reed, Son of the Revolution, was born in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, July 23rd, 1850. His early education was received from his mother, but later he entered the Yeates School, an Episcopal Institution for boys; after graduation from this, he completed his training at a technical school in Philadelphia.

He secured his early experience in a locomotive plant in Philadelphia, soon afterwards becoming paymaster of a construction gang engaged in railroad building. In 1870, he came to Dayton, Ohio, where he made his home for the remainder of his life. From the first he was closely connected with the business life of that community, always held in esteem for his integrity and uprightness. He became interested in the firm of Weed & Company, manufacturers of agricultural implements, becoming the owner on its re-organization as the Champion Plow Company. He was receiver for the Holden Book Company, and Secretary and Treasurer of the McHose and Lyon Architectural Iron Works. About ten years ago he retired from active business, acting since as Trustee of the Estate of Alexander Gebhart.

He was married on May 25th, 1876, to Miss Lucy Gebhart, who died August 11th, 1909. Two children were born to them: Mrs. W. S. W. Edgar and Alexander G. Reed, both at the present time residents of Dayton.

For thirty-six years Mr. Reed served as vestryman of Christ Episcopal Church, the major portion of that time as Senior Warden. He was a devoted Churchman, a student and a diligent reader. His passing is a personal loss to a wide circle of loyal friends, unvarying courtesy, gentle sympathy and kindness, and a fine, true, appreciation of the highest values of life enriched his own experience and endeared him to all his associates. He was a Mason, and a member of various local organizations.

Mr. Reed died on Saturday, October 24th, 1914, after suffering for eighteen months from an illness, which became acute about ten weeks before his death. The funeral services were held the following Monday morning, and the body was interred in the Gebhart lot in Woodland Cemetery, Dayton.

John Lane Reed became a member of this Society by right of descent from Captain Peter Ford, a Captain of a Company of Foot, York County, Pennsylvania, in 1777, and of Abraham DeHuff, a Captain in 1776 in Colonel Samuel J. Atlee's Musketry Battalion.

ORRIN A. REYNOLDS.

1838-1912.

Orrin A. Reynolds was born at Jay, Maine, April 10th, 1838. He died at his residence, 48 West Fourth Street, Covington, Kentucky, August 20th, 1912, in the seventy-fifth year of his age. He had resided in Covington since 1885, and held the office of Postmaster for twelve years, his last term having been concluded about two years before his death.

Mr. Reynolds was admitted to the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, January 3rd, 1902. He traced his descent through several lines:

I. From Thomas Reynolds, of North Bridgewater, Massachusetts, who enlisted December 5th, 1777, and again December 4th, 1779, and served as a private in the Colonel's Sixteenth Massachusetts Regiment, commanded by Colonel Henry Jackson.

II. From Joseph Reynolds, son of the former, who enlisted July 16th, 1779, for nine months, and served in the Twelfth Massachusetts Regiment, commanded by Colonel Gamaliel Bradford.

III. From Samuel Jackson, also of Massachusetts, who enlisted July 7th, 1780, and served as a private in the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, commanded by Colonel Thomas Nixon, and afterwards in the Eighth Massachusetts Regiment, commanded by Colonel Michael Jackson.

Mr. Reynolds was an Elder and a Trustee in the First Presbyterian Church of Covington, and in its spacious edifice the funeral services were held, the Rev. John N. Ervin of Dayton, Kentucky, officiating. His two surviving sons, Dr. C. W. Reynolds and Dr. O. L. Reynolds of Covington, are members of this Society. His beloved wife preceded him to the grave by a few months, and this heavy affliction increased the burden of weakness and suffering, with which those months were already weighted. Mr. Reynolds was a loyal member of the Society and faithful in attending its meetings.

JAMES GODMAN ROGERS.

James Godman Rogers, Springfield, Ohio, was third in descent from Lieutenant Richard Rogers, Pennsylvania, 1733-1804, and from Corporal Andrew Rogers, Pennsylvania, 1746-1782. He was elected to membership in 1897, and in 1901 and 1909 served on the Board of Managers. He died September 28th, 1909. If an obituary was prepared it cannot now be found.

SCHUYLER CHARLES SCHENCK.

1842-1913.

Schuyler Charles Schenck was born in Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on March 9th, 1842, and died from heart trouble induced by apoplexy, in the Toledo Hospital (which he helped to found), Toledo, Ohio, on June 3rd, 1913.

His father's ancestors were Hollanders, who settled in this country in 1650. His father was a farmer and dealer in lumber, and had eight children. From his father's farm, he went to work in a Fulton general store; then he was employed in a hardware store for ten years, and was admitted to partnership when he was twenty-one years old. In 1870, he went to Toledo and established himself in the coal and fuel business, as agent for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway Company. He was also engaged in the anthracite coal business, with a branch in Chicago. He was a member of the City Council, and Park Board of Toledo, besides being engaged in many charitable associations. He was a director of the First National Bank, and President for eleven years; and, also, was a director of the Union Savings Bank. He helped to build the first telephone system in Toledo. He was, also, the President of the Toledo and Indiana Railroad Company. He gave much of his time and money to charitable objects, and was especially interested in the Children's Home, and the Toledo Hospital. His career was that of a most useful and honorable citizen, and one worthy of emulation.

In 1874, he married Miss Harriet Elizabeth Dow, of Baldwinsville, New York, and his widow and four children survive him: Daniel D. Schenck, Mrs. B. S. Hamilton, and Miss Margaret L. Schenck, of Toledo; and, Lewis R. Schenck, of New York.

Mr. Schenck was admitted to the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on July 24th, 1894, by right of descent from Richard Falley, Jr., of Westfield, Massachusetts, who, at sixteen years of age, was a soldier in the French and Indian War. This youth was captured at Fort Edward and adopted by an Indian Chief. A lady, whose attention was attracted by him, bought him from the Indian and returned him to his parents, at Westfield. After having grown to manhood, he fought in the Revolution and commanded a company at the battle of Bunker Hill.

FREDERICK BELLINGER SHOEMAKER.

Frederick Bellinger Shoemaker, son of Matthew Shoemaker and Catherine Bellinger, his wife, was born in Jackson, Michigan, on September 8th, 1843. He received his early education at Tiffin, Ohio, at the preparatory school of Heidelberg College, and also in the High Schools of Dayton and Toledo, Ohio. In 1859 he went from Dayton to Toledo, and thereafter made his home in the latter city.

From 1862 to 1866, Mr. Shoemaker was engaged in the foundry and machine business, except for about five months in 1864, when he served as Lieutenant in Company C, 130th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, during which time he was engaged in the campaign in Virginia. For many years he was a Director of the Northern National Bank of Toledo, and was Cashier of the institution from 1871 to 1881 inclusive. He was also director in the Union Savings Bank, the Commercial Banking Company of Bowling Green, the Produce Exchange Safe Deposit Company, and other Toledo corporations. For some years Mr. Shoemaker was engaged in the grain business, and in 1888 he was elected President of the Toledo Produce Exchange. He was also interested in the Turnbull Wagon Company and other enterprises.

In 1895 Mr. Shoemaker became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Hanyoost Shoemaker, Major of the Fourth Battalion Tryon County Militia, New York, in 1775. He was also third in descent from Michael Meyers, private in the Third Battalion Tryon County Militia, New York, who was wounded in the battle of Johnstown, October 25th, 1781; and fourth in descent from Henry Herter who was a Captain in the French and Indian Wars in 1757, First Lieutenant in the New York Militia under Colonel Nicholas Herkimer in 1775, and Captain under Colonel Peter Bellinger in 1778.

Mr. Shoemaker was also a member of the Toledo Post, Grand Army of the Republic; the Society of Colonial Wars; the Rubicon Lodge of Masons; the Toledo Club; the Country Club, and other organizations.

In 1875 Mr. Shoemaker married Miss Kate Laura Carrington, daughter of Miles D. Carrington of Toledo. Both died in the same year, leaving no descendants, Mrs. Shoemaker's death occurring in February, 1916, and Mr. Shoemaker's on September 23rd, 1916.

WILLIAM HENRY SHOUSE.

1833-1912.

William Henry Shouse was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania, on June 22nd, 1833, and died at Hartwell, Ohio, on November 24th, 1912. In 1866, he married Miss Rebecca L. Krepps, at Uniontown, Pennsylvania.

While still a young man, he came to Cincinnati and entered upon a business career which continued up to the time of his death, during which time he was connected with some of the most prominent china and glass-ware importers and dealers of this city. Mr. Shouse was a communicant of St. Paul's P. E. Church, which later became St. Paul's Cathedral, and served as a member of the Vestry of the former, and a Trustee of the latter, for twenty-five years—most of that time as Treasurer of the respective corporations. He was also a member of the Episcopal Church Club of Cincinnati. His career as a citizen, and a churchman, was that of an honest, loyal and conscientious man. His domestic life was most happy and was only broken by the death of his wife, a few years before his own. His daughter, Mrs. Alice Shouse Herron, wife of Rev. J. D. Herron, survives him.

Mr. Shouse was admitted to membership in the Ohio Society of the Sons of the Revolution on December 13th, 1894, by right of being the second in descent from Sergeant Richard Sparks, who was born in New Jersey; later, was a citizen of Pennsylvania; and, who died in Mississippi on July 1st, 1815. The service of Richard Sparks in the Revolution was in 1778, when he was a Sergeant in Captain Thomas B. Bowen's Company, Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment, commanded by Colonel Richard Butler.

CHARLES ELIHU SLOCUM.

Charles Elihu Slocum was born at Northville, New York, December 30th, 1841, and died at Toledo, Ohio, June 7th, 1915. He was of Revolutionary descent, tracing his ancestry to Joseph Slocum and Eleazar Slocum, members of the New York Militia in the Continental Army.

His early studies were pursued in the schools of his native town, and by his own exertions at Fort Edward Collegiate Institute, and at Poughkeepsie, New York. While teaching in Albion, Michigan, in 1865 he began the study of medicine. Subsequently he attended the medical department of the University of Michigan, the Detroit Medical College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, being graduated from the latter institution as Doctor of Medicine in 1869. He at once entered into partnership with his brother, Dr. John Caleb Slocum, at Shelbyville, Indiana.

In 1870 he traveled through the South and East for his health, and in July 1871, settled in Defiance, Ohio where he resided for many years, removing a few years before his death to Toledo, Ohio, where he continued the practice of his profession. Parts of several years Dr. Slocum spent in post graduate studies in literature and medicine in New York and Philadelphia. He received a degree from Jefferson College, Philadelphia, upon examination, and spent two years in the University of Pennsylvania from which he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in course. In 1879 he visited the medical centers of Europe in the interest of his profession.

Dr. Slocum was a member and officer of various medical and scientific societies, being sometime President of the Defiance County Medical Society, Vice-President of the District Society, member of the Ohio State Medical Society, the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Ninth International Medical Congress, and the American Public Health Association. He also served for many years as Professor of Psychology and Ethics in the Cleveland College of Physicians and Surgeons, Cleveland, Ohio.

Besides contributing to medical and scientific journals, Dr. Slocum was the author and publisher of historical and other books, one of his most notable works being a comprehensive genealogy of the Slocum family and its various branches, work involving monumental labor and tireless research.

Dr. Slocum was at one time director and vice-president of both the Merchants and the First National Banks of Defiance, and acting president of the former for a time. He was also interested in the manufacturing institutions of the city. For many years he was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church of Defiance, and was also a member of various Masonic bodies, including the Knights Templars and the Scottish Rite. He was formerly a member of the consistory of Cincinnati, and subsequently was connected with the Lake Erie Consistory of Cleveland.

During his early studies he began the nucleus of a private library around which he accumulated a valuable collection comprising medicine, history, literature and art, and numbering nearly ten thousand volumes. Dr. Slocum avoided tobacco, alcoholic beverages and excesses of all kinds from both medical and moral motives, and was known as a man of high integrity and a philanthropist.

CLEM HENRY TINGLEY.

1857-1916.

Clem Henry Tingley was born June 25th, 1857, in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Quite early in life he removed to Ohio and engaged in the hay and grain business, in which he continued until stricken with the illness which eventually caused his death.

Mr. Tingley was a member of various Masonic organizations, including the Scottish Rite, the Knights Templar, and the Mystic Shrine. He was also a member of the Delaware Society of the Cincinnati, and of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution.

Mr. Tingley became a member of the latter in 1893, the year in which the Ohio Society was organized, his accession number being seventeen. He was fourth in descent from Gustavus Scott of Somerset County, Maryland, who was a member of the Maryland Convention in 1776, and of the Maryland Congress from 1776 to 1783, and also a member of the Committee of Safety for the same period.

Mr. Tingley was also fourth in descent from Samuel Love, whose Revolutionary record was identical with that of Gustavus Scott just given, and fifth in descent from Charles Jones of Montgomery County, Maryland, who was a member of the Committee of Arms and Ammunition from 1776, to 1783, and the first Judge of Montgomery County, 1777.

Mr. Tingley died at his home in Columbus, Ohio, on October 16th, 1916. He is survived by a son, Herman R. Tingley, a member of the Law firm of Hedges, Hoover and Tingley, of Columbus, Ohio.

GEORGE PAUL TORRENCE.

1854-1918.

The Rev. George Paul Torrence was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on June 25th, 1854, and was the son of James Findlay Torrence and Ann Rebecca, his wife. His early education was received in the Cincinnati public schools. In 1871 he entered Yale, from which he graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1875. In the Fall of the same year he entered the Berkeley Divinity School at Middletown, Connecticut. In May, 1878, he was ordained Deacon by the Rt. Rev. John Williams, Bishop of Connecticut, and was ordained Priest by the same Bishop in May, 1879.

During his Deaconate he had charge of St. Peter's at Oxford, Connecticut. From 1879 to 1881 he was Rector of Grace Church, at Long Hill, Connecticut, and also had charge of Trinity Church at Nichols Farms. In June, 1881, he accepted a call to St. Thomas Church at Bethel, Connecticut, and served this parish for nine years. In 1890 he moved to Zanesville, Ohio, and was Rector of St. James Church until 1896. From 1896 to 1899 he was Priest in charge of St. John's at Cambridge, and the Church of the Good Shepherd at New Lexington, having his residence in Cambridge. In 1899 he accepted a call to become Archdeacon of the Diocese of Michigan City, and lived in Marion, Indiana. In 1904 he resigned as Archdeacon, and became Rector of Gethsemane Church at Marion, and also had charge of St. Paul's at Gas City. This position he held until 1910, when he moved to Lafayette, Indiana, and became Rector of St. John's Church. In 1916 he accepted a call to Trinity Church, Hamilton, Ohio, and also had charge of Holy Trinity Mission at Oxford, Ohio, positions which he held until his death, which occurred on November 21st, 1918.

In 1899 Rev. Torrence became a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution by right of descent from Joseph Torrence of Fayette County, Pennsylvania, who was Second Lieutenant, Seventh Regiment, Pennsylvania Line, on March 2nd, 1777, and was promoted to First Lieutenant on February 3rd, 1778.

In 1879 Rev. Torrence married Miss Mary Ferguson of New Haven, Connecticut, who survives him, together with his five children, Mrs. William H. Staudring, a missionary in Soochow, China; Mrs. Archie Price, of Marion, Indiana; George Paul Torrence, Jr., of Chicago, Illinois; Mary Ferguson Torrence, at present in Hamilton, Ohio; and John Ferguson Torrence, a medical student in the University of Cincinnati.

Rev. Torrence held several responsible positions in the Church at various times, being twice a delegate to the General Convention; Examining Chaplain; member of the Missionary Board, and of the Standing Committee, etc. He was a Knight Templar, and a Scottish Rite Mason of the thirty-second degree.

Wherever he lived he always had the respect and affection of all his associates and parishoners. One of his Bishops testifies that "for no Priest connected with the Diocese did I have a higher regard or deeper respect. I admired his fearless stand for principles, his thoroughness and fidelity in the performance of every duty, his reverence and dignity in ministering in the Church." Another of his fellow clergymen says, "He was a rock, solid and reliable; and I always found him first just, then tender, and always true".

SAMUEL ROBERTS VAN METRE.

1836-1916.

Samuel Roberts Van Metre, son of Robert and Mahala Wheeler Van Metre, was born August 8th, 1836, on the old Van Metre homestead near West Liberty, West Virginia, and died at his home in Marietta, Ohio, December 20th, 1916.

He came to Ohio when a young man, and was married August 22nd, 1861, to Miss Josephine Johnson, daughter of Isaac and Laura Stanton Johnson. After teaching and clerking for a few years, Mr. Van Metre entered mercantile life in which he continued successfully for over fifty years. His first business venture was the establishment of a dry goods business in Malta, Ohio, under the firm name of Palmer & Van Metre. In 1876 he came to Marietta and founded the clothing firm of S. R. Van Metre which still bears his name.

Mr. Van Metre helped to organize the Board of Trade of Marietta, and also the Citizens National Bank of which he was director and treasurer. He was president of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Company of Washington County, Ohio, for twelve years, and was vice-president and director of the Ohio Mutual Windstorm & Cyclone Association of Columbus until his death. Mr. Van Metre was also actively interested in religious and philanthropic work. He united in early life with the Methodist church, and on settling in Marietta united with the First Congregational Church of that city.

Mr. Van Metre was a descendant of Jacob Van Meteren of Breda, Holland. The first evidence of the presence of any member of the family in America is the name of Jan Van Meter in the list of passengers arriving at New Amsterdam, September 12th, 1662. Jan Van Meter first settled at Kingston, New York, where he subscribed to the oath of allegiance in 1664. About 1706 some members of the family moved to New Jersey, and later to Virginia. One of the family, John Van Meter, is said to have been the first white man to penetrate the south branch of the Potomac, and in 1830 he and his brother Isaac received from Governor Gooch a grant of 1,400 acres of land on the site where West Liberty now stands.

The name of Van Meter is prominent in Revolutionary annals, ten members of the family going to the war from Virginia, and as many more from New Jersey. Samuel Roberts Van Metre was elected a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, on May 5th, 1916, by right of descent from Abraham Van Metre, a member of the Virginia Continental Army.

WILLIAM R. WARNOCK.

Colonel William R. Warnock was born in Urbana, Ohio, August 29th, 1838 and was within a month of his eightieth birthday at the time of his death, which occurred on July 31st, 1918. He was the eldest of a family of children born to Rev. David Warnock and Sarah (Hitt) Warnock. William R. Warnock received his early education in the Urbana public schools, and at graduation engaged in teaching for the purpose of paying his way through college. His collegiate education was secured at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, where he merited the degrees of A. B., A. M. and LL. D.

Colonel Warnock studied law in Urbana under the noted Judge Corwin, and was admitted to the bar in 1866, after he had served his country with great credit during the critical period of the Civil War. Colonel Warnock's war record was an enviable one. In 1862, while yet a law student, he recruited a company and was commissioned Captain in the Ninety-Fifth O. V. I. A year later he was promoted to Major because of gallantry at Vicksburg, and subsequently for his gallantry and meritorious services at the battle of Nashville he was brevetted Lieutenant-Colonel.

Returning from the war at its close, Colonel Warnock again took up the study of law, and after being admitted to the bar, he associated himself with the Hon. George M. Eichelberger in the practice of the law. Colonel Warnock served Champaign County as prosecuting attorney for two terms, starting in 1867; was elected to the Ohio Senate in 1875; and in 1879 was elected Common Pleas Judge, where he served for ten years. In 1900 he was elected member of the Ohio Senate, and served two terms with honor and distinction. In 1910 he was appointed U. S. Pension Agent at Columbus by President Roosevelt.

Colonel Warnock was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, and also belonged to the Knights of Pythias, Sons of the Revolution, Grand Army of the Republic, and Military Order of the Loyal Legion. He was a past president of the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution, past commander of the Loyal Legion in Ohio, and also of the Ohio Department G. A. R. He was also a life long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and an ardent supporter of the Church in Urbana. He was also prominent in church circles of the State, having served several times as delegate to the General Conference.

Colonel Warnock was married in 1868 to Miss Catherine Murray. To this union were born three daughters, all of whom, together with the widow, survive.

As a man Colonel Warnock was generous and God-fearing, strong in his faith and belief. His life record as a man and soldier are without blemish, clean and unassailable. Early in life he set for himself the very highest ideals, and to the end he steadfastly and unswervingly lived up to those ideals. He will be missed in church, public and social circles, and his passing will be a deep loss not only in his own home, but in a circle extending far beyond the confines of his native city.

HOWARD SYDENHAM WINSLOW.

1851-1910.

Howard Sydenham Winslow, son of Augustus S. and Susan L. Winslow, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 7th, 1851. His early education was received in Cincinnati in the Chickering Institute and at the school conducted by Mr. Eugene F. Bliss. In 1868 he entered the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, New York, where he remained until 1872 studying for the profession of Civil Engineer. Returning to Cincinnati, he entered the service of the Ashland Coal & Iron Co., at Ashland, Kentucky, in which service he continued for some time, part of the time in Lexington, Kentucky, and then in Cincinnati. He afterward became interested in the Arctic Ice Co., of Cincinnati, being appointed Secretary in 1888, in which office he continued until 1896 when he was elected President and General Manager of the Company. Mr. Winslow conducted the affairs of this Company with great success until 1905, when it was merged with the Cincinnati Ice Company. Mr. Winslow then became a Director and Vice-President of the Cincinnati Ice Company, and so continued until 1908, when he resigned as Vice-President but continued in the Board of Directors. In 1909, on account of failing health, he resigned from the Board and retired from Business.

Mr. Winslow never married. In the year 1908 he became a resident of Burlington, New Jersey.

Mr. Winslow was a member of the Church of the Covenant, formerly the Second Presbyterian Church of Cincinnati. He was also a member of the Historical Society of Ohio, the Philosophical Society of Ohio, the Queen City Club of Cincinnati, the Society of Colonial Wars, and the Ohio Society, Sons of the Revolution. Also of the College Fraternity of Delta Kappa Epsilon which he joined when a student of the Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. Winslow's membership in the Sons of the Revolution was by right of descent from Stephen Jackson of New Jersey, who was a member of the Committee of Observation in Morris County, New Jersey, in 1775, Captain of a Company of Morris Militia in 1777, and commanded a company of cavalry the following winter.

On account of ill health, Mr. Winslow went for treatment to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in December 1909. There he was attacked by a fatal illness, from which after two weeks of suffering, he died on February 1st, 1910. His burial was in the family plot in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, on February 4th, 1910.

DeHUFF, ABRAHAM, Pennsylvania. 1735-1821.

November 8, 1775, chosen a member of the Committee of Correspondence for Lancaster County. This was merged into a company of guards of which DeHuff was made a Lieutenant, was Officer of the Day, January 24, 1776 and again February 21, 1776.

Abraham DeHuff was appointed Captain March 15, 1776, in Colonel Samuel J. Atlee's Musketry Battalion which was recruited in the spring of 1776 and joined the "Flying Camp" under General Mercer. The Battalion rendezvoused at Marcus Hook. On July 21 arrived at Amboy; was sent August 11th to Long Island and on the 12th was brigaded with Gleason and Smallwoods Regiments under command of Brigadier General Lord Sterling.

In the battle of Long Island, August 27, 1776, Colonel Atlee's Regiment had suffered so severely that General Washington ordered three battalions to be considered as one regiment under command of Lieutenant Colonel Brodhead until further orders. On October 5, 1776, the Council of Safety ordered a rearrangement of three battalions. The company of Captain DeHuff retained its place in the organization, being known as The State Regiment of Foot.

A part of the Regiment was present in the action at Fort Washington, Nov. 16, 1776 and fell into the hands of the enemy with several of the Officers. Among them was Captain DeHuff who also suffered severely at the battle of Long Island.

Up to this time, these troops were Pennsylvania soldiers. On November 12, 1777 by resolution of Congress a transfer to the Continental Service was made, being known thereafter as the 13th Regiment Pennsylvania of the Continental Line.

Captain DeHuff remained a prisoner until November 16, 1778. Was appointed Sub. Lieutenant of Lancaster County, April 1, 1780.

HOUSTON, ROBERT, Delaware. 1730-1791.
Sussex County, Del. He was a "recognized patriot" as is shown by letter of David Hall, Chairman of the Committee of Public Safety of Sussex County, Del., sent to the Continental Congress under date of July 5, 1776, and in which he enclosed a communication from Robert Houston and seven others (sworn to at Lewes, Del., July 5, 1776) and which Chairman Hall declared to be a "true statement" of the general disaffection that prevails among the people of Sussex. In the same letter which was written by order of the Committee of Public Safety, Mr Hall said: "We earnestly entreat that our Congress may take the matter into their most serious consideration, and order what may be thought necessary to fix the minds of the wavering and secure the common safety." In those perilous times it required great courage to acknowledge and work for the cause of American Independence, in a community where there were "at least six disaffected to one firm man for America", the disloyal aiding and abetting the British.

STUNTZ, CONRAD, Vermont.

Was a soldier in the Continental Service; he served in the American Army in the retreat from the City of New York when that city was evacuated as one of the results of the Battle of Long Island and was engaged, as a consequence, in the Battle of White Plains. He, as soldier, was in the retreat across New Jersey; he was with The Continental forces in "The Crossing of the Delaware" and was engaged in the Battle of Trenton; he was sent with the prisoners to Virginia as one of their guard (this matter is presumed from collateral facts of family history). He was in the Battle of Brandywine and was wounded in that action, but escaped capture. He was in the Battle of Monmouth and was honorably discharged after that engagement.
